Proposed 1959 Budget For County $2,816,786

$1,426,627 Tax Levy
Request Down $8,901;
Surplus at $400,000

BY JACK GLASNER
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

The tentative operating budget for Outagamie county during 1959 is $2,816,786—$131,474 more than proposed last year and $10,148 more than finally was approved by the county board.

The proposed property tax levy is $1,426,627—$8,901 less than last year's proposed levy and $8,901 less than was approved by the board.

The budget estimates a $125,000 dip into the contingent fund to cut down the levy. The county's surplus money in the contingent fund totaled $402,801 as of the September audit and probably will be at least $500,000 by the end of the year, when departmental account surpluses go into the general fund.

The county also has $115,000 in a matured bond issue originally floated for senile hospital construction. This bond issue, having matured, now can be used for any purpose, including a reduction in the levy. The county may have at least $600,000 in surplus, uncommitted funds by the end of the year.

Build Up Fund

It has been the policy of the board's executive committee and the county board to build up a large contingent fund. This is done, it has been explained, to pay for fairly costly items without bonding—such as the proposed $250,000 share of a University of Wisconsin extension center.

However, it also has been the county board's policy on several occasions to borrow large sums from the county's own insurance program. The county has its own fund for fire and tornado insurance on many of its buildings. The fund totals about $306,251 as of the September audit. The county board voted $30,000 into the fund last year, proposed payment this year is $25,000.

The proposed budget will be presented to the county board Monday to begin public hearings. The board always makes some changes after approval of the budget by the executive committee.

If the entire surplus in the county's contingent fund were to be applied to the tax levy, it could mean a saving of as much as $2 on Appleton's tax rate and reductions in governmental levies throughout the county.

Income Up

The executive committee estimated incomes at $1,306,481, or $83,678 more than those received in 1958. The increases are in most accounts, with the largest in aid to dependent children, a jump of $47,000 to $269,338. The county will pay an estimated $313,216 in this type of aid—a jump of $40,000 over this year.

Active on Border

Cairo—The Cairo press was filled today with reports charging Israel is concentrating troops on the Jordan borders. President Nasser's semi-official Middle East News agency reported that France was sending six bomber planes to Israel.

The newspaper Al Ahrar charged that Israel, supported by Britain, is carrying out large scale military operations aimed at placing the west bank of the Jordan under United Nations control. The paper said Israel began mobilizing in the last 48 hours and is massing troops near the Jordan-Israel demarcation line.

The newspaper Al Akhbar charged Israeli troop massings aim to threaten Jordanians in case they make any attempt against King Hussein.

12 Rescued After Nearly Week in Nova Scotia Mine

Trapped May be Found Alive

Springhill, Nova Scotia—Twelve miners who survived hunger, cold and thirst for nearly a week deep in the wrecked Cumberland No. 2 coal mine were brought to the surface early today in a dramatic rescue.

Many had given them up for dead days ago. Their rescue fanned hopes that other pockets or survivors would be found in the depths of the coal workings, where 55 men are still missing.

The lifting of the 12 back to life and family brought to 93 the number of men rescued since the sudden upheaval of the mine floor deep underground last Thursday. There were 174 men below at the time, and 26 bodies have been recovered.

Total Darkness

The 12 men, trapped in a 100-foot-long, 3-foot high pocket, had nothing to eat from last Thursday until rescuers reached them.

Thirst dried their throats. Their lamps went out after a day or so, leaving them in utter darkness. Time was read by the luminous dial of a watch.

No survivors had been found since last Friday night, and hope had waned in this mining town of 7,000 when a rescuer's pick struck a 6-inch compressed airline yesterday afternoon 13,000 feet from the mine entrance.

Through the line came the muffled voice of Gorley Kempf, 37-year-old father of two children.

"There are 12 of us here, come and get us... get us water," he croaked.

The news electrified the town, scene of two mine disasters in as many years.

Church bells rang. Horns honked. Stores emptied. From every corner came families and onlookers, hoping, fearing to stand in a steady drizzling rain.

Among them were those who already knew their men had died in the mine.

Even as they waited two more bodies were brought out from elsewhere in the mine, to mingle grief with joy.

Kempf already had whispered to his nephew, Percy Weatherbee, the man who

Largest Ever Set Off in This Country

Atomic Test Site, Nev.—The biggest underground atomic explosion ever touched off by the United States blasted up through the top of a mesa today and shot a column of dirt more than 1,000 feet in the air.

The 7 a.m. shot shook the ground where newsmen were stationed, 4½ miles away, and shook large boulders off the edge of the mesa.

The completion of this test in a tunnel left just one more to go today before the test deadline set by President Eisenhower at midnight tonight. Actually the deadline will be 4 p.m. here, because that will be midnight, Greenwich time. How long the ban remains in effect depends on the outcome of talks between the United States, Britain and Russia.

20,000 Tons TNT

The underground explosion, dubbed Blanca, was touched off in a tunnel that had been dug 2,600 feet into the side of a mound and under a mesa.

The great column of dirt that spewed up, probably 500 feet thick, began subsiding five minutes later and drifting away.

Another atomic weapons test, from a balloon at 1,500 feet altitude, was scheduled for 8:15 a.m. but winds were kicking up and there was possibility of a delay.

Proxmire First to Greet Thomson at Plant in Milwaukee

Milwaukee—Republican Gov. Vernon Thomson stood outside a plant gate yesterday and shook hands with all comers—including Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis.). The governor was given the gate.

As Thomson waited in the early morning gloom for workers to arrive at their jobs a long figure approached and the governor prepared to greet him in the best campaign style.

But as the figure drew nearer a startled Thomson faced an equally startled Proxmire.

"Oh, hello, Vern," said the senator. "Well, you were here first, so I guess I better go somewhere else." Hands were shaken all around and Proxmire headed for another plant.

He said persons having information about the activities of the girl on the night of her disappearance, Aug. 15, or about Vernon Dillman, 22, Oshkosh, being sought for questioning, should contact his office.

It was learned today that Dillman reported for work at a Menasha mill for the last time on the 3 to 11 p.m. shift, Aug. 14.

Oshkosh—A tall, thin convicted auto thief has become a central figure in investigation of the slaying of Miss Ruth Schmidt, 17, whose decomposed body was found near a town of Omro marsh Tuesday.

Sheriff Charles Lowry and Dist. Atty. Jack Steinhilber said pick-up bulletins have been issued on Vernon Dillman, 22, Oshkosh, one of the last persons seen with Miss Schmidt.

and physiology today for solving some of the basic riddles of heredity.

The winners are Drs. George Wells Beadle, 55, of the California Institute of Technology; E. L. Tatum, 49, of New York's Rockefeller Institute; and Joshua Lederberg, 33, of the University of Wisconsin.

The Royal Caroline Institute of Medicine said half of the $41,420 prize would go jointly to Beadle and Tatum "for their discovery that genes act by regulating specific chemical processes."

Half to Lederberg

The other half of the prize went to Lederberg "for his discoveries concerning genetic recombination and the organization of the genetic material of bacteria."

"Genetic recombination" is a term for sexual fertilization in the bacterial world. Lederberg found that from the geneticists' point of view, "this corresponds exactly to the normal sexual fertilization in higher organisms."

Describing the work of the prize winners, Prof. Torbjorn Caspersen of the Caroline Institute said the research of Beadle and Tatum in the early 1940s "led to the discovery that the individual gene acts by directing individual steps in the course of chemical synthesis in the cell. All the substances in the cell are built up step by step in a long series of synthesizing processes.

"The individual steps are governed by individual genes by their regulation of the production of specific enzymes for each separate step."

4 Men Killed In Explosion at Cleveland Plant

Cleveland—A sharp explosion ripped through a 3-story brick factory building on the near east side today. It killed four men, hurt eight others and sent waves of toxic smoke pouring from shattered windows.

Twenty-five firemen were overcome by the fumes, and were treated at nearby hospitals with oxygen.

Fire Chief Elmer Cain said the property loss at Erico Products, Inc., manufacturer of welding equipment, would be about $50,000. There was a brief flash of flame, but no fire.

The cause was a matter of conjecture. Cain said one re-ported was that a research worker was mixing chemicals at the scene shortly before the explosion.

The fumes came from materials used in the manufacturing process. Cain identified them as copper oxide and aluminum powder. They have a comparatively low ignition point and apparently were set off by the blast.

The dead were chemists and laborers. The company employs about 100, including 40 women.

Takes No Stand On School Tax

Ike Considers Issue
One for California
Voters to Decide

Washington—The White House denies President Eisenhower has taken any stand on whether California should wipe out its tax exemption for parochial and other private schools. Vice President Nixon describes as "falsification... at its worst" any suggestion that he backs such a move.

The announcement of the administration leaders' position came late yesterday on the heels of word that the federal communications commission and the FBI had had complaints about California broadcasts on the subject.

James C. Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary, said more than 50 telegrams had been received at the White House, protesting against broadcasts which inferred that Eisenhower and Nixon favored a proposal to cancel the tax exemption.

Other Protests

Other government agencies said they had protests that some of the broadcasts sought to incite religious hatred.

Hagerty said religious leaders of several faiths in California—Catholic, Episcopalian, Baptist and Lutheran—signed protests received at the White House.

The school taxation proposal is on the California ballot for next Tuesday's election. Describing any use of Eisenhower's name in connection with the referendum as completely unauthorized, Hagerty told newsmen:

"The president has never expressed an opinion on the proposition. He considers it a matter strictly for California voters to decide—and no one else."

Nixon—who is one of the California voters the White House mentioned—announced he had voted against the proposal in casting his absentee ballot yesterday.

3 Men Die in Jet Crash in Arkansas

you stand not to dishonor it by victimizing a writer revered throughout the entire civilized world."

The signers included novelist Graham Greene, Aldous Huxley, E. M. Forster, Somerset Maugham, J. B. Priestley and Rebecca West.

Pearl Buck, American author of "The Good Earth" and the 1938 winner, said she was "deeply saddened" that Pasternak was not permitted to accept the prize.

Reflects on Soviets

"The rejection, which no doubt was made under pressure, does not alter his world stature as a writer," she added. "It does reflect, most unfortunately, upon his government and his compatriots."

In communist Poland, leading writers said they were sure only government threats had forced Pasternak's action. The Polish writer's union, a hotbed of independent sentiment in the red-ruled country, already had congratulated Pasternak on his honor, and there was consternation at his rejection of the award.

He joined another Nobel winner, Poet T. S. Eliot, and several other leading British writers in a plea to the Soviet Writers' union not to victimize Pasternak. The union, a prime organ of government control of Soviet writers, already has expelled Pasternak from its ranks.

Writers Certain Moscow Forced Pasternak to Turn Down Award

By The Associated Press

Three western Nobel prize-winning authors agreed today that Boris Pasternak turned down his 1958 award because of pressure from the Soviet government, not because he agreed with the Kremlin's condemnation of his work.

The 68-year-old Russian writer was awarded the $41,420 prize a week ago for his poetry and his novel, "Doctor Zhivago," which describes the loss of freedom on Soviet society. The novel is a best-seller in the west but has been suppressed in Russia.

Cables Rejection

Yesterday, after a government campaign of vilification in which the Nobel committee was accused of playing cold war politics, Pasternak cabled the Swedish Royal academy of letters that he was refusing the prize "because of the meaning attributed to this award in the society I live in."

"Do not take my voluntary refusal with any ill will," he added.

Previously he had messaged that he was "immensely thankful, touched, proud, astonished, abashed" by the honor.

France's Albert Camus, winner of the 1957 Nobel prize for literature, commented, "I don't believe Pasternak refused the Nobel prize of his own free will."

Earl Bertrand Russell, 86-year-old British philosopher who won the 1950 prize, said he was "disgusted with the Russians' attitude to this from the start. Knowing the Russian way of life as we do, we may well think that Pasternak had no alternative but to reject this prize."

He joined another Nobel winner, Poet T. S. Eliot, and several other leading British writers in a plea to the Soviet Writers' union not to victimize Pasternak. The union, a prime organ of government control of Soviet writers, already has expelled Pasternak from its ranks.

Republican Legislators Answer Madison Dem

Here's what Mark's fellow legislators from neighboring districts have to say about recent Democrat attempts to intrude in the affairs of the Republican Party:

"Look who's trying to tell us Republicans what to do! The state chairman of the Democratic Party, no less! Our opposition must be really worried over Mark Catlin's chances of becoming Speaker of the Assembly again. The Democrats are undoubtedly afraid of his parliamentary skill and experience; he keeps them in their place. Let's hope the voters of Outagamie County return Mark Catlin, Jr. to Madison. We sure need him." His leadership will make a big difference in the outcome of vital legislation to come before the 1959 session."

Gerald D. Lorge, Bear Creek.
It's unusual for the Democrat to return to the legislature. Of course, he has been in the legislature. Throughout his 14 years in the legislature, he has been in the fight for Republican principles. He has unexcelled. And with all his experience, he has been able to represent the best interests of his constituents. Appleton certainly has a good man. The voters show they know it.

It's unusual for the Democrats to be so worked up over one Republican's return to the legislature. Of course, Mark Catlin is no ordinary Republican. Throughout his 14 years in the Assembly, he has consistently led the fight for Republican principles. His knowledge of state government is unexcelled. And with all his skill and experience, he has consistently represented the best interests of his home community as few legislators can. Appleton certainly has a good man in Mark Catlin, Jr. Here's hoping the voters show they know it!"

"As political writer John Wyngaard has said and as we in the legislature all know . . . The greatest asset of Mark Cathin, Jr. is his universal reputation for straight shooting.' There's never any doubt as to Mark Cathin's position on an issue. He tells you where he stands, and when he's declared himself, Democrats and Republicans alike can be sure it's going to be just that way. His is a matchless political integrity — a terrific asset to the Republican Party!"

Vote STRAIGHT REPUBLICAN next Tuesday, and give Mark Catlin, Jr., a well-deserved return to Madison!

'Not Policy to Smear Others,' Says Priebe

Appleton Alderman Outlines Program to 80 at His Assembly Race Headquarters

"It is not my policy to employ smear tactics against other candidates," Kenneth Priebe, veteran Appleton alderman and independent candidate for Outagamie county's First district assembly seat, told about 80 people at his campaign headquarters Wednesday night.

Priebe said he was too busy working and helping with the important jobs and problems in the First assembly district to "go around knocking people in the hope that it will help me. I don't believe such things help very much."

Priebe went on to outline the principles which he stands for as an independent Republican—that our government is government by the majority while protecting the rights of the minority, government by consent of the governed, dependence of national prosperity upon individual prosperity, cooperation and working with the Republican party and no talk about the past, but looking toward the future.

Priebe's Program

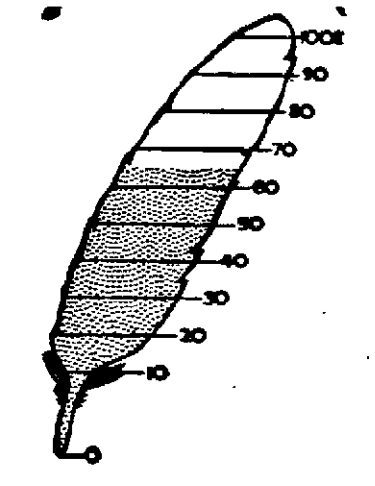

Outlining his program, Priebe developed eight points which he indicated he had to offer the 50,000 people in the First district.

1. Industrial Development—backing the efforts of this area to the hilt and getting the state to do more to assist local communities.
2. University of Wisconsin extension center—secure the establishment, then see that it is properly financed in later years.
3. Highways—make highways safe places upon which to travel rather than death traps.
4. Agriculture—partnership between Appleton and surrounding farms, continuing benefits to agriculture through the state agricultural research programs.
5. School Program—Schools—help and support for educational leaders in people's wishes in determining educational programs and policies.
6. Health—closer cooperation between cities and counties to do a better job of administering health services at a savings to taxpayers.
7. Area planning—work for more recognition by the state government of its obligation to assist areas with long-range plans and needs with basic ideas, master suggestions.
8. Attitude—"one factor which will help us in solving our complex problems is an attitude of humbleness, a spirit of humility, a little more regard for others and a little less for ourselves."

Priebe said he was "the poorest man in the area, and the happiest. I owe so many so much that I don't know how I'll ever pay back their work for me in this campaign."

Entrapment Can be Issue In Cases With Informers

Sometimes big question such as the security and freedom of our citizens arise out of what look like sordid and petty affairs.

The police need underworld pipelines to help protect us, and informers may serve that purpose.

In two recent U. S. supreme court cases, informers got law. The trial court convicted people to sell narcotics, at him and the supreme court which officers caught them in held that there was no "entrapment."

Yet in one case the court upheld the conviction and in the other it freed the prisoner. In one case, the informer introduced the accused to an

it. The informer asked and then begged the accused to get him some drugs, appealing to his sympathy. When the accused reluctantly yielded and bought drugs for both, the informer told officers. They arrested, and the trial court convicted the accused.

But this time the U. S. supreme court turned the prisoner loose, saying that the sale was entrapment, and that law enforcement is meant to prevent crime and catch criminals: "Manifestly that function does not include the manufacturing of crime."

Law enforcement does not call on the government to play upon the weakness of an innocent party to beguile him into committing crimes.

Vote-Splitting May Win for Rockefeller

Desire for Change in New York
Working Against Gov. Harriman

BY SAMUEL LUBELL

One intriguing aspect of the race between Gov. Averell Harriman and Nelson Rockefeller is its demonstration of how volatile are the political affections of a good part of the electorate. In fact, as the New York gubernatorial race now shapes up, it seems almost a satire on what is happening in the rest of the country. The restless desire for a change—which nearly everywhere else is helping the Democrats—is working in Rockefeller's favor, while Harriman is pulling support from the more politically satisfied, who tend to be Republican in other states.

In Buffalo, for example, a widow, who has always voted Republican for president, declared, "Harriman has done all right. We ought to keep a man of experience in there." Similarly, an assembly worker in Long Island, who was strong for Eisenhower because "we've never had it so good" intends to vote for Harriman because "you know what you've got with him."

In contrast, any number of former Eisenhower voters have declared "we want the Democrats back in Washington" and then added "we want a change in Albany, too." Some are irritated because Harriman "didn't continue the 10 per cent income tax reduction" which had been in force. Others feel "Harriman hasn't done much. Let's give a new guy a chance."

So tangled a pattern of cross-shuffling of party loyalties isn't easy to unravel. However, my own interviews indicate Rockefeller is getting the heavier share of the ticket-splitting and ought to win.

Need Small Defection

Since Harriman squeezed through in 1954 by less than 12,000 votes, not much of a defection from that vote would be needed to defeat him. In earlier articles in this series I reported that of the persons with whom I talked who voted for Harriman in 1954, one of seven was switching to Rockefeller.

Since then I have done additional interviewing in Buffalo and around New York City. Particularly among the Polish-Americans in Buffalo, Harriman's strength appears to be holding fairly well. But in the New York City area the shift to Rockefeller seems to be running even heavier than two weeks ago.

Along with this swing to Rockefeller, though, one still finds a heavy switch back to the Democratic party of persons who voted for Eisenhower in 1952 and 1956.

Harriman's main hope for victory, I would judge, lies in the possible strength of this party trend, that the swing to the Democrats may prove powerful enough to cut the usually heavy Republican pluralities in upstate New York sufficiently to offset the lure of the Rockefeller name.

Some voters are torn between their feelings on national and state issues. "We'd like to vote Democratic to protect the high cost of living," explained one Queens woman, "but we also want to vote for Rockefeller to protest the way the local Democrats are controlled by Tammany hall."

Many others, though, are thinking of the governor's race as separate and apart from the national election.

Picks Up Votes

In fact, the striking thing about the turn of former Harriman voters to Rockefeller is that it seems to be taking place among nearly every type of voter. Around New York City, for example, I found Rockefeller picking up votes—not necessarily many but always some—among virtually every ethnic element—Catholics, Jews, Puerto Ricans, Negroes—and at varied economic levels. The break is even showing up among persons who never have voted Republican for president.

Asked to explain why, many shifters cite one of three main complaints—the failure to reduce taxes, the influence of Tammany boss Carmine De Sapio, or that New York City hasn't received its fair share of state revenues.

But many more of the switchers confess they are motivated primarily by curiosity over what a Rockefeller would do. "Harriman has run

He seems eager to do a good job we talked together, made the verbal slip of referring to Another typical comment Rockefeller as "Roosevelt," was voiced by a Negro chef, which I took as evidence of "Rockefeller has promised how important the familiarity, some good things. Who knows of the Rockefeller name has been in winning him support. In Buffalo several voters, as the election might be described as correcting the 1954 vote. Some Democrats have said that four years ago they voted against Harriman "because he had too much money" but will now vote for Harriman since "he's the Democratic millionaire."

Similarly, many Republicans who were attracted by Harriman in 1954 because of his wealth and business standing are now switching to Rockefeller

Freakish Quality

To sum up, there is a curious, freakish quality about the whole New York election. Basically, of course, it reflects the lack of any flesh-and-bones issues and the fact that few voters see any essential difference between the two candidates. The decisive election in the country of consideration in the minds of many voters seems to be a Thursday, October 30, 1958 Appleton Post-Crescent A5 question of taste, of whether one likes something new or something old in the way of millionaires. It may seem ironic that so important a position of governor of New York can hinge on nothing more vital. Still, the Harriman - Rockefeller contest also serves as a revealing footnote to the whole election in the country. If a show seems likely, next Tuesday brings a Democratic target.

Monty's Blast Could Bring NATO Revision

Pressure Building For Streamlining Of Military Setup

London — Pressure built up today for a swift and drastic streamlining of NATO's military and political setup following an outspoken attack on the organization by Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery, its former deputy supreme commander.

As a result, proposals for a far-reaching shakeup likely will top the agenda of the Dec. 16 meeting of the policy-making Atlantic council, composed of foreign and defense ministers of the 15 North Atlantic Treaty organization countries.

Army of Critics
Demands came from a growing army of critics both military and political. Some diplomats were in favor of making the December meeting another summit conference of heads of government.

Montgomery in a speech Friday called NATO "complicated, cumbersome, and grossly overstuffed." There is "enormous waste of money and effort" and interminable arguments about unimportant details, he said.

Britain's World War II hero is known to support French Premier De Gaulle's argument that the United States, Britain and France have a dominant place in the free world and should be able to override smaller powers in making quick defense decisions.

De Gaulle is believed to have expressed forcefully the view that while NATO nations are bickering among themselves, the Atlantic alliance is distracted from the communist threat.

The concern for the alliance's future comes within six months of its tenth anniversary.

Coat of Arms of New Pope Has Reminders Of His Recent Posts

Vatican City — The coat of arms of the new pope, John XXIII, carries reminders of his two most recent posts.

On the silver and red shield are the lion of St. Mark, a symbol of Venice, and the fleur-de-lis, once a symbol of French kings.

Pope John was papal nuncio to Paris from 1944 to 1953 and patriarch of Venice afterward.

Pope John is known in Lourdes as an initiate of the jet age of travel.

He came there last March with a delegation from the Vatican for the consecration of the underground basilica at the Lourdes grotto. The group traveled in a twin-jet French Caravelle which had been blessed by Pope Pius XII.

Chaplin's Son Says He Wants Divorce

Los Angeles — Charles Chaplin, Jr., is suing to divorce actress Susan Magness, his bride of less than three months.

He alleged cruelty in a complaint filed Tuesday.

Chaplin, son of the comedian and himself an actor, said before filing the suit that he hoped they could reconcile.

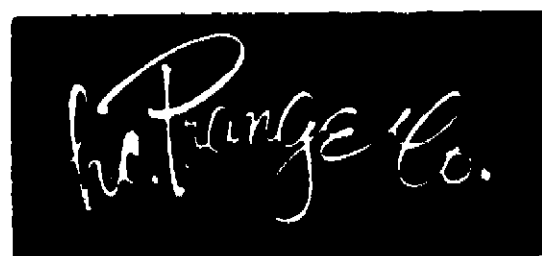

months of its tenth anniversary.

There are plenty of reasons for alarm.

Britain is rowing heatedly with the six European countries over the proposed European free trade area involving all the NATO members. This essentially economic wrangle is felt to have political and military repercussions.

The bitter British-Greek-Turkish split over Cyprus apparently goes from bad to worse and threatens Greek membership of the alliance.

There also is the fishing war between Britain and Iceland, with Russia trying to cash in on the tension to woo Iceland into the Soviet camp.

"I asked, 'How are you?' and Gorley answered, 'We're good but we need water badly,'" Weatherbee reported.

60-Foot Barrier

The rescuers, some near exhaustion from almost continuous efforts since Thursday, dug again with new energy. They clawed and picked at the nearly 60-foot-thick barrier of up-turned stone and debris.

As the men dug, warm coffee braced with sugar and vitamins was poured down the airline to the thirsty, trapped men. Finally, a narrow passage was open and shored up and the imprisoned men began to crawl out.

Slowly the conveyor rake which normally brings up the coal began to turn, this time to bring the rescued men to the surface. There was an unexplained halt for a time, then, at 2:20 a.m., some 13 hours after the discovery, Kempt was the first man brought out.

Completely covered with a blanket to protect him from the weather and to shield his eyes from the glare of television and newsreel spotlights, he was carried to the ambulance and rushed to the hospital. Waiting at the pithead were his wife and two teen-age children.

An hour after Kempt was brought out, the man-carrying rake arrived at the top with Joe McDonald, who had suffered a broken leg. Theodore Michniak and Eldred Low-Then in succession came Bowman Maddison, Levi Mil-

Labor Backs U. S. System, Meany Says

New York — AEL-CIO

President George Meany says organized labor is dedicated to strengthening the free enterprise system and has no ambition to run the government.

He says charges that unions are trying to control the government or push it toward socialism are "a political scare balloon."

Meany stated his defense of unionism last night in a talk on the CBS radio network.

He did not use the word "Republican" or "Democrat" in his talk. Nor did he make any direct criticism of any political figure.

Meany said: "No group is more convinced than American labor that control of government by any special interest group, such as organized labor, organized business or the organized financial interests would mean an end to the American way of life."

He said it is "utter nonsense" to say that labor wants nationalized industries and other socialist ventures. He also said that any charge that American labor is pro-communist is an example of "the big lie technique."

Richard J. Thompson, said to be from Canada, is being questioned by police in Mexico City in connection with the recent murder of Mrs. Harriett Hicks, widow of John Hicks, a newspaperman whose father founded the Daily Northwestern at Oshkosh.

Reds Pledge Cooperation On Test Ban

Implies U. S. Will
Talks at Geneva

Geneva — Moscow broadcast today a pledge of Soviet efforts to assure success of the big three nuclear test ban negotiations opening here tomorrow. It implied the United States would drag its feet.

The talks among representatives of the United States, Britain and Russia are to deal with political aspects involved in suspension of nuclear weapon tests, particularly the setting up of a system of detection stations to detect violations of any ban that is agreed on.

The Russian broadcast followed up a declaration here by Ambassador James J. Wadsworth, head of the U. S. delegation, that the United States intends to negotiate "in the best possible good faith to make the conference a success."

Wadsworth told reporters on his arrival he expects the Russians in the talks will seriously try to reach agreement on suspending the tests despite recent Soviet signs to the contrary.

He said the views of the United States and Britain are identical except for a few minor details.

The newspaper Soviet Russia, in an article broadcast by Radio Moscow, said the Soviet Union "will do everything (possible) to bring about the success of the Geneva conference."

But it added that Secretary of State Dulles "already has forecast early failure of the talks" and commented: "That probably is the task American policy has set for itself."

The newspaper said Russia proposes to end nuclear weapons tests everywhere and for all time, "but cannot consent to temporary suspension of work on improving these most powerful weapons."

A Most Unusual Vice President

Certainly we have one of the most unusual vice presidents in our history. True, the character and personality of the president may have something to do with it; also the problems faced by the Republican party, and the character and habits of the opposition. But surely most of the reasons for this situation must lie within the mind and heart of that most unusual man — Richard Milhous Nixon.

He has only to lift his little finger, and the Democratic press has conceptions fits. Let him make a partisan remark and their cartoonists picture him wallowing in the mire, much as they used to picture Joe McCarthy. Let him attempt to be statesmanlike and they put a halo around his head and a sanctimonious smile on his lips. One day he is an evil genius who is really running the government; the next day he is a bumbling fool whom his associates ignore as much as possible. Obviously the opposition is scared to death of him. And during the last two weeks he has shown us why.

Mr. Nixon has realized how the GOP has been sliding into a slough of despond and defeat, not because of anything it has done but because of what it has failed to do. He has realized how fallacious is Mr. Eisenhower's quaint idea that all one has to do is provide the people with a reasonably good government and they will rush to the polls to show their approval.

The Political Debate

The political debate between Sen. Proxmire and Rep. Byrnes was a most unusual political event and certainly must have helped those who watched come to a better understanding of the issues involved in the congressional campaign this year. It is regrettable that the debate was not held earlier in the campaign and on a statewide basis.

Political partisans are not easily dissuaded. They will cheer and fight on for their hero long after he has been riddled with logical arguments, but the average voter intent on deciding where his vote should go is in a different class. He should be able to learn more from such a debate than he could possibly hope to learn from a dozen political speeches.

Byrnes charged Proxmire with intellectual dishonesty and with intent to deceive the voters. He then pointed out the trickery in what he referred to as Proxmire's phony charts. Although Proxmire had the final opportunity to speak, many of the Byrnes assertions went unchallenged.

Byrnes pointed out that the Proxmire chart omitted several bills which were important to the discussion, and this statement went unchallenged. One of the bills omitted would have increased income tax exemptions. The senator had mentioned this bill in his campaign and in senate speeches as "a major pledge to the people of Wisconsin." The cost estimate by Sen. Yarborough, co-sponsor of the bill, was

Driver Licensing Performance

A sound highway safety program must begin with a reasonably careful system of qualifying drivers. To the extent that a driver licensing system is inefficient or careless, the whole costly superstructure of enforcement, punishment, education and patrolling is likely to fail.

It is a matter of some importance, therefore, that the National Safety Council in its recent grading of Wisconsin highway safety programs gave this state a mediocre score of 70 per cent in an examination of its driver licensing procedures as measured against standards suggested by the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators.

The council said Wisconsin's performance is generally "good," but its summary also made it clear that there is plenty of room for improvement. Remembering, moreover, that we have tended to boast a little about our licensing system, a grade of 70 should not be especially pleasing to anyone concerned in this field — particularly the conscientious driver worried about the highway accident totals.

The analysis accompanying the report noted some deficiencies in the vision tests given to new applicants, and strangely, some defects in the examination of chauffeurs (drivers for hire, including truck drivers) under the law enacted only last year.

Just Buy the Islands

Now we've heard everything. Hallock Hoffman, secretary of the Fund for the Republic, told a meeting of the American Friends Service committee that the solution to the Quemoy and Matsu hasle is simple. The United States should buy the islands, presumably from the Nationalist Chinese on Taiwan, and then make a gift of them to the Chinese Reds.

"Nobody would lose, everybody would win and we would even save money," said Hoffman.

Actually we have often been under the impression that the United States was trying to underwrite peace with money all around the world. Hoffman's suggestion just makes it more authentic. To carry this out ad horrendum, we should buy Israel and give it to Nasser, pay the ransom on West

The people want leadership and moreover they want partisanship — the kind of partisanship that demonstrates conviction, the partisanship of a man who believes deeply in what he is doing and saying and who will resolutely defend his deeds and his thoughts. This is the secret of Harry Truman's popularity — the people know he is no great brain but they like him because he is a fighter.

So the vice president took off from Washington and began hitting the opposition where it hurt — on foreign policy, on the difference between the Republican policy of firmness which has kept the peace and the Democratic policy of vacillation which brought us war. Mr. Eisenhower tut-tutted, Mr. Dulles shook his head worriedly. But a resolute man who is sure he is right can usually win the day; the secretary of state reversed himself, and the president suddenly began lashing out with Nixon-like broadsides against the Democrats.

Thus Nixon obviously has taken the party leadership out of the hands of Mr. Eisenhower. We have, in fact, developed a situation in which the president is still running the country, but the vice president is running the party. Considering the president's inability to cope with political realities, and the GOP's desperate need for morale-lifting leadership, this is as it must be.

given by Byrnes as $5,202,000,000. Byrnes pointed out that it was not a duplicate of any other Proxmire bill.

Proxmire's aid to education bill was listed by the senator as costing the federal treasury only $882,300,000. Byrnes declared that the senator had told the senate April 24 of this year that the cost would be $2,946,000,000. This charge again went unchallenged. The congressman pointed out that the bills omitted from the Proxmire chart were more than sufficient to wipe out the claimed savings of $728,000,000.

But the congressman was not willing to stop there. He went on and on until he rolled up the cost to the treasury of $30,350,300,000 as the final result of what he called "The Proxmire Program to Bankrupt the U. S. Treasury."

It is important of course to have a factual basis for any political program. The debate should have given many people that factual basis, but most important for the voters to consider were Byrnes' final words pointing to the need for economy in the federal government. They went something like this: What use is it to have benefits under social security, to have scholarships, to have farm subsidies or tax exemptions if the federal treasury is running headlong into disaster? What good are such benefits if spiraling inflation makes them valueless? Finally, if the federal treasury meets disaster, all who depend upon it will meet disaster too.

But perhaps of greatest importance was the comment that Wisconsin has not yet moved in the direction of re-examination of drivers.

For the most part, the person applying for a renewal of a driver's license in Wisconsin gets his permit routinely and mechanically.

He may have suffered a disqualifying disability since his original examination, through age, or accident, or disease, but unless he volunteers the fact on his application, there is no way for the business machines and examiners at Madison to reject his papers.

A minimum advance, at this stage in our steady program of improving highway safety legislation in Wisconsin, would be to require examinations of those men and women with poor performances since their original examinations, as the council suggests. Ultimately, we are sure, the legislature must move toward automatic re-examination of all, at the intervals now provided for license renewal. Without such re-examination there is no serious purpose for the expiration of a license. Without such requalification, the only result is to collect a fee, as a tax, for the state treasury. No one can sensibly argue that a driver's license issued on examination at 16 should be continued indefinitely through a person's lifetime without proof of continued eligibility.

Berlin and turn it over to the Russians and probably buy out most of the striving independent kingdoms and republics in Asia for the Reds. In order to mix things up a bit, we might pay Iceland for those 12 disputed miles of ocean and give them to Ireland, or purchase part of New Guinea for Indonesia and in turn buy Jakarta and give it back to the Dutch.

Of course, Americans such as Hoffman are far too sophisticated and knowing to go in for slogans. But for those naive people who have to pay the bills we might turn that old saying around to "millions for tribute but not one cent for defense." Otherwise that apparently money-glutted Fund for the Republic ought to do the really decent thing with its tax-exempt cash and buy the islands for a recreation area for retired foundation secretaries.

Former Student at Menasha UW Center Attests to Its Value

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Many viewpoints have been stated regarding the construction of a new building in the Fox Cities for the Menasha Extension Center of the University of Wisconsin. Being a former student at the Menasha Extension for two years before transferring to the campus at Madison and receiving my degree there in 1953, I feel qualified to speak from the view of a former student.

I sincerely believe that adequate extension facilities in the area are essential for the development of individuals and the community they comprise. I doubt if I ever would have attempted to further my formal education if the facilities of the Menasha Extension Center had not been available. This is the major reason why I'm grateful for the extension center system.

In my opinion the quality of instruction at the Menasha Extension Center is absolutely on a par with the instruction available on campus at Madison. This excellent instruction enabled me to earn membership in Phi Eta Sigma and Beta Gamma Sigma, the honorary scholastic fraternities for freshmen and for commerce students, respectively. Without the foundation built at the extension I don't think this would have happened to me.

Extension centers also offer more opportunities for the typical student to engage in such extra-curricular activities as student government, inter-extension competition, and other programs that tend to prepare students for future leadership in their communities.

These are the major reasons why I personally believe a university extension center has a place in the community. I'm sure other former students and their parents in the community would have similar opinions and I urge them to express their opinions to their friends and neighbors, and to their representatives in our local government.

Islands are Eyes, Ears of Free China

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Quemoy and Matsu are important to the United States because they are advanced positions held against Communist pressure. Like the 38th parallel in Korea, for which we paid nearly 200,000 casualties, like the Berlin Airlift with its losses, like the 17th parallel in Vietnam, they are symbols of America's support of the Free World.

At Telleran and Yalta and Potsdam we gave in to Communist pressure, but it brought only more trouble, not friendship with the U.S.S.R. in 1945, 46, 47 and 48 we disarmed Chiang Kai-shek and gave aid to the Chinese Communist Agrarian Reformers. It brought us not their friendship, but their hatred. They understand only firmness.

Quemoy and Matsu are the eyes and ears of Free China; they prevent amphibious build-up of the ports of Amoy and Foochow, the natural take-off points for the invasion of Formosa. While Quemoy and Matsu hold out, Formosa is safe. Neither Quemoy nor Matsu is, like Hongkong, within the international 3-mile off-shore limit, and neither has ever belonged to Communist China. Both are governed by the National Government of the Republic of China which was elected in free elections in 1947, something the Communist Chinese, like the Russians, have never dared to risk.

As Gen. MacArthur told the Veterans of Foreign Wars, if we abandon Quemoy, Matsu and Formosa, San Francisco is the next logical stopping place.

State's 'Surplus' Is True—for the Present

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison — Several things need to be said about the new report of the state department of budget and accounts showing a "surplus" of about $20,000,000 in the state general fund at the start of the present fiscal year on July 1.

Wyngaard

First, it was prepared by an office staffed by civil service accountants of unquestioned integrity who were following out the precise letter of the law in making the report.

Second, it shows the state in somewhat better financial condition than the Democratic partisans hoped it would be, and better than some of the Republicans responsible for the current state budget feared it would be.

Third, that accounting cannot be interpreted as showing that the state is in good or even fair shape, with respect to the future. It isn't and it won't be, according to all the signs that are available for reading by anyone who is interested. It is merely a current statement, which will be qualified considerably during the fiscal year that is now already well underway.

EXPLANATION

The balance report of E. C. Giessell, state director of budget and accounts, is deceptive in that it presents a picture for one year, while the state is operating on a 2-year budget.

The report shows that during the last year the state took in more than it spent, with the result that there is a comfortable balance of unused funds, on the record.

What it doesn't show is that during the new year the state is going to spend more than it takes in and that at the end of the year the surplus will be wasted away accordingly.

During the last year tax receipts were larger than the calculations of the budget office, always supremely cautious, had estimated. During the present year it is likely that the tax receipts will be lower than even that office estimated, because of the unlooked for recession last spring and summer. One of the notorious weaknesses is your pride? This cannot be wiped out by one alone. It takes co-operation. If one of these cocky individuals would stop this fad it seems there would be a severe penalty inflicted by their fellow-men.

It's about time you Dads get together with your boys and take them all down at one time and get those hair do's sheared off and elevate the pants. The teachers would like to be proud of their classrooms.

An Appleton Mother of the income tax, which is the principal buttress of the state's revenues, is that it shudders and wilts so quickly according to economic reverses.

With all that conceded, it will strike the bystander that the Democratic partisan criticisms of the report of Giessell as such, and what it implies, are incongruous. Giessell has been charged with perpetrating a "hoax", for example, although it is clear that he is following out the mandate of the law exactly as the legislature, of which Candidate Nelson was a member, enacted it. With respect to the future, the state's prospects for easy financing surely won't be improved with the spending commitments committed or implied in the published proposals of the Democratic candidate for governor and the party platform upon which he stands.

THE FUTURE

The state will get all of its bills paid during this fiscal year, although the "surplus" will nearly vanish in the process, but at the end of the year another Giessell report will show graphically what everybody who pretends to be interested in this subject knows, but which the politicians are timidly avoiding:

The state treasury will need new tax revenues, in great gobs, for the years immediately ahead.

How much more will be a matter of taste. The state could manage with modest increases, such as are dictated by growth factors, such as school enrollment trends.

But the people also want new services — or their political representatives believe they do — and so the outlook is for considerably more spending than some moderates might believe is necessary.

All this is plain enough, but it might be the great secret of the era, to judge from the evasive attitude of the candidates.

new results of the board diverting this county clerk's and sheriff's fees to the county rather than the fees being paid to those officials. Income from the clerk's office is estimated at $3,000 and from the sheriff's office at $4,000. The board last year raised the two officials' salaries and ended the fee system.

Forestry Tax
Still to be added to the budget is the state forestry tax—which was $61,300 this year—and school loans and special loans, each in specific districts. Only the forestry tax is county-wide.

Not a part of the budget is the $250,000 the county board appropriated for the University of Wisconsin extension. The appropriation was contingent upon Winnebago county doing the same and upon selection of a site suitable to the board. Also not in the budget is an expected request of at least $12,000 from a committee backing establishment of a guidance center for disturbed children.

Fair Request
Pleas for a city-county health department may come before the board, although there has been little except committee meetings on the subject. Estimates given earlier this year placed the cost named a Red Cross volunteer for establishing such a center field consultant on the staff at $138,000, with no breakdown of staff, one of two in Wisconsin on the county's share. The county health departments, Her territory will include on the board of directors, as and their activities take $81, the southern part of the state, home service chairman and 720 in the 1959 budget, but this where she will be used, at the includes cost of patients at Riverview sanatorium and the county hospital.

Also not in the budget is recommendation from the agricultural and conservation committee that the county appropriate $10,000 for the Outagamie County Fair association to contribute toward construction of a new exhibition building. The executive committee put $5,000 in the budget this year's appropriation.

Major divisions of county government and their estimated budgets for the year are:

General government, up $13,007 to $376,500.

Protection of persons and property, up $6,188 to $280,500.

Health, conservation and for the fair, $2,300 less than sanitation, down $23,972 to $61,720.

Education, up $3,008 to $221,413.

Charities and corrections, up $103,632 to $1,123,316. (mainly increases in aids, for which the state and federal governments pay a portion to the county).

Indebtedness (bond principal and interest) — up $10,975 to $355,150.

Miscellaneous small accounts not specifically classified — down $19,435 to $18,053, mainly because salary increases were put in this account last year. No such fund has been set up this year.

Judge Stone Names Thomas E. Coleman Jury Commissioner

Madison — Thomas E. Coleman, Madison industrialist and for many years chairman of the Republican party of Wisconsin, has a new job. He was appointed federal jury commissioner by Judge Patrick T. Stone.

the jury commissioner "will be a well known member of the principal political party in the district opposite that to which the clerk may belong."

Mrs. Lucille Alstad, the clerk, is a Democrat as was Judge Stone before his appointment to the federal bench. Therefore a Republican had to be appointed.

Section's Roadway Widened From 18 to 37 Feet of Concrete

Opening of Oneida street
Friday afternoon ends a $27-000 concrete paving and widening project by the city.

Street department crews today are fixing the approaches and Friday will lay down a coat of linseed oil on the east lanes. Linseed oil protects concrete surfaces poured late in the season from winter weather damage.

The section being opened is from the south line of Lindbergh street to Highway 41.
It fronts the Northgate Shopping center, Fox Valley Lutheran High school, a city water tower and several homes.

The section was widened from about an 18-foot gravel and oil road to a 37-foot, curb and gutter concrete street.
Ray McCarthy and Sons, Kaukauna, held the contract.

Property owners paid special assessments on this basis: $9.11 a foot for land zoned commercial, $5.27 a foot for residential land and $4.27 for residential land in front of which curb and gutter had already been constructed. There was a small section with curb and gutter beforehand.

Cost of the project was cut north of the highway if an-by about $500 when the connection is ever sought. If tractor was permitted to use part of the existing gravel will surface to augment the six inches of gravel base. The concrete pavement is eight inches thick.

All sewer and water mains system until adjoining property was annexed in November, 1955. At one time it was a favorite trysting place for permit extension of these the young.

The intersection of Oneida street and Highway 41 is easily identifiable—the water tower two blocks south on Oneida street, Northgate shopping center to the west and Fox Valley Lutheran High school to the east landmark the newly-paved corner. The camera in this aerial shot is pointed north.

Water Tower Helps Identify Oneida, Highway 41 Corner

The corner of Oneida street and Highway 41 is easily identifiable by motorists approaching from any direction—the imposing city water tower on

N. Oneida street easily lo-cates the intersection.

Although the tower is two blocks south of the newly-improved intersection on N.
Oneida street, its height identifies the corner to all corners.

Other landmarks, too, help the passerby. Fox Valley Lutheran High school, Northgate shopping center, a Skelly service station, a D-X service station and the El Rancho motel all are relatively newcomers to the area.

And many home builders evidently like the section, for the Oneida street blocks north of the highway have been developed into a pleasant, flowered residential section.

Money for Dam Seems To be Nasser's Reward

$100,000,000 Probably Is Result Of Red Sphere-of-Influence Deal

BY JOSEPH ALSOP

Washington — A secret understanding about Soviet and Egyptian spheres of influence in the Middle East most probably lies behind the Kremlin's recently announced loan of $100,000,000 to Egypt to finance the Aswan dam.

The wisest experts here are unanimous in pretty strongly suspecting the existence of such a Soviet-Egyptian deal. It is carried on Egyptian spheres-of-influence negotiations with the Kremlin. If they are correct, the new development in the Middle East is likely to affect us all rather more in the end than anything that happens in the present strange election.

After the fall of the pro-western government in Iraq, a conflict at once began there between the 100 per cent pro-Nasser group, then headed by Col. Aref, and a more "independent-minded" group headed by Col. Aref's chief of staff, Brig. Gen. Karim. The communist and always bitterly resisted all in Nasserite undergrounds had collaborated in the revolution. Both were represented in the resulting government—the communists, by the new minister of development, Ibrahim Kubba, for one.

Now the real question was which would be master. Gen. Karim is most emphatically not a communist. But his "independent-mindedness" was and is vigorously encouraged and supported by the communists.

mid-September and ordered into comfortable exile, as ambassador to Bonn, by the end of the month. Direct negotiations for Soviet arms were opened by the Iraqis—thus shattering Nasser's former cherished monopoly as the exclusive representative of all Arab nationalists in all dealings of this sort.

Not long after Aref's final fall, the Egyptian army commander, Gen. Abdul Hakim Amer, left for Prague and Moscow. Gen. Amer, who is also Nasser's preferred confidant, reached Moscow Oct. 19, and carried on negotiations with the Kremlin until just the other day, when the big Soviet loan for the Aswan dam was announced. In view of past Soviet refusals to have anything to do with the grandiose Aswan project, the announcement was a distinct surprise.

Reward to Nasser The whole pattern suggests that the big Aswan dam loan is in fact a reward to Nasser for approving an important sphere of Soviet influence in the Middle East, where he has always bitterly resisted all in Nasserite undergrounds had collaborated in the revolution. Both were represented in the resulting government—the communists, by the new minister of development, Ibrahim Kubba, for one.

Now the real question was which would be master. Gen. Karim is most emphatically not a communist. But his "independent-mindedness" was and is vigorously encouraged and supported by the communists.

An Official Visitor to the AFROTC detachment at Lawrence college this week has been Col. G. V. Davis, assistant commandant for AFROTC activities for this area, consisting of seven midwestern states. Col. Davis, shown at left, with Lt. Col. Albert G. Betz, professor of air science and tactics at Lawrence, is based at Montgomery Air Force base, Alabama.

to extend his control over the Sudan, Libya, Tunisia, and Morocco, and for his patronage of the Algerian rebels. One thing Nasser and the Kremlin can easily agree about is the desirability of attacking western friends and western positions. And with the Kremlin establishing an open base at Baghdad, it will be more convenient for everyone if Nasser now centers his attack in Africa.

Extra Precautions Needed To Protect Radar Personnel

BY FRANK CAREY

St. Louis.—Powerful new radars anticipated for the space era are expected to necessitate extra precautions for protecting radar station personnel from the heat of their beams.

This was related Monday by Col. George M. Knauf, a flight surgeon at the air force missile test center, Cape Canaveral, Fla.

But Knauf said the hazard from existing radar equipment has been overrated and has unnecessarily become a cause for public concern. He told the 88th annual meeting of the American Public Health association, in a "tissue heating" report that present-day radar equipment "poses no great threat to personnel other than those engaged in operating or maintaining the equipment."

"Certain it is," he said, "that today's radar offers no hazard to residents of communities adjacent to radar sites."

Little Fear "Even in the case of our operating and maintenance personnel, little fear need be felt of injurious exposures from existing gear, as long as certain common sense precautions are enforced."

He said that with the introduction of equipment now on the drawing board for the era of space projects, "we can anticipate that these precautions will have to be extended and augmented."

"We can foresee a need for protective clothing for use in high-intensity fields. We anticipate a need for shielded passageways to protect personnel as they move around an operational site in the discharge of their duties. We feel that all of this is now within the state of the art. We need only to acquire data which will outline the physiological quantities of safe exposure limits."

He implied that even these more powerful radars would not constitute a hazard to ci-

Governor Makes Vigorous Drive For Reelection

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Madison—Vernon Wallace Thomson, who spent most of his adult life preparing for his successful campaign for the governorship two years ago, has been making an extraordinarily vigorous drive for reelection.

Veteran political observers and politicians agree that no incumbent governor in modern times has campaigned with such energy and zeal. The governor reports that in no previous state-wide campaign—and he has had four before this year—has he expended the time and the energy he has devoted this year.

Thousands of miles of travel, hundreds of speeches and many hundreds of hours away from his home and family have been devoted toward gaining the second term as state executive, which is the goal of all men who have been chosen for the office, and which most of them have won.

A lean 160 pounds, and a man of careful personal habits—he doesn't smoke and takes a drink only occasionally—the governor displays astonishing reserves of energy in the grueling work of campaigning sandwiched between heavy schedules of work at his Madison office where the routine business of the state administration continues the year around.

Thomson is a product of rural, conservative western Wisconsin, where his father and grandfather were pioneer teachers. His own early bent was toward teaching and when he decided to get a law degree, he worked himself through the University of Wisconsin law school by part-time instruction at the Madison school of vocational and adult education.

This is the seventh in a series of articles describing candidates for principal offices in the Nov. 4 elections. The stories, based upon long observation of the Wisconsin political scene and its principal figures, covers the contestants' backgrounds, outlook, methods and personalities. The author has traveled with major candidates during their current campaign tours.

His early political experience was typical of that of the ambitious country lawyer, but it also gave him a broader understanding and appreciation of governmental affairs than is possessed by most men who reach the top elective office in the state government.

He became an assistant district attorney, city attorney of his city, and finally mayor. As a young man he was elected assemblyman for his county, during a period of depression in the Republican party's fortunes. Partly because his party was the minority party, he became floorleader of the Republicans. Later, when the Republicans started winning state elections, his previous service earned for him the coveted speaker's gavel.

Nimble in parliamentary procedure, ready and effective as speaker and debater, Thomson quickly won recognition outside the legislature, in party politics. He was repeatedly chosen as have known him well for a long time explain he is essentially a shy man.

In office and on the stump he is closely informed, in part because of his quarter of a century of association with state and local public affairs, in part because of a habit of hard work and unusually few diversions. He sometimes makes a wry joke about the burdens of his wife, who spends many evenings alone in the executive mansion with her children while he is out on the business of the political leader.

He will telephone Mrs. Thomson from some distant out-state point.

"How are you, Helen?" he will ask, as his story goes.

Alone With Editorials

"Well, Vernon, you know how it is, I am here alone with the children and those editorials in the Capital Times." (The capital city's fiercely anti-Republican newspaper.)

Mrs. Helen Thomson, a former teacher, has cheerfully and loyally adjusted her own life to the demands of her husband's long political career. As official hostess, she has opened the palatial governor's home purchased 10 years ago more freely to the public than any of her predecessors.

Scores of women's groups, with memberships running in the thousands, have been invited to tea at the residence and to inspect the quarters which the legislature during the Rennebohm administration decided to buy for the convenience of future governors.

On the campaign trail, Thomson is unhurried and seemingly relaxed, but he carries out his enormous schedule with stern discipline. He is usually seen with a well-chewed cigar, which he never lights. He tends to prepare his speeches, although the audience rarely know it.

Between stops he will carefully review the kind of audience coming up next, the locality, regional interests, the identity of the local leaders.

But as he rises it is with the confidence and certainty of the practiced speaker. Perhaps no other man now in the upper ranks of state politics has addressed so many audiences, or discussed so many of the public questions that have occupied Wisconsin opinion in the last 25 years.

Responds Quickly

He responds quickly to the mood and size of an audience. A receptive crowd brings out his best skills, the most clever phrases, the most cutting jibes at the political enemy.

Sometimes they are spontaneous, reflecting his enthusiasm of the moment. Often persons who have listened to him regularly will start with surprise at a new swipe at the opposition. Once he was enjoying himself before a generous and friendly audience in ridiculing the lack of agricultural experience or knowledge of an opponent.

"Why," he shouted, "he doesn't know, he doesn't know... a hamstrung from a whiffle tree." It was an apt and original method of dramatizing his own bucolic boyhood.

Normally men who reach the governor's office have future plans in mind. There has been no suggestion from him about what he may hope to achieve in the future, although his reelection this fall, in a part of the country in which Democrats have made gains in other historically Republican states would probably give him national prominence and scrutiny.

No Relief in Prison Space For 2 Years

Green Bay Critical, But Other Facilities Top State Plans List

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison—Substantial relief of the critical over-crowding of inmates at the state reformatory near Green Bay probably won't come for another year, possibly two years.

Plans for the construction of new facilities at Wales and in Sheboygan county for the housing and training of delinquent boys are progressing, but haven't reached the contract stage.

It will be about two years, before the medium security prison planned in Dodge county will be opened for use, state welfare department officials said.

No Plans Drawn
A new state boys' school was authorized by the legislature more than three years ago. The state architect's office has been unable to produce plans for all buildings on schedule during the extensive post-war state institution reconstruction program.

The state reformatory population has been bulging more critically each month during and all-important goal for the moment is a second term as head of the state government establishment.

the last year, in mid-month tuberculosis treatment during the last year and turned over to the welfare administration.

Wilbur Schmidt, director of the welfare department, said best progress is in planning cottages and other facilities for the housing of older delinquents at Wales, on the site of the former state tuberculosis sanatorium, closed for but the end circled off his plate and into the open handbag of a woman at the next table too engrossed in conversation to notice. What to do? Apparently the social arbiters had never anticipated this. After a bit of hesitation the man left without telling the woman.

The Democrat-Controlled 85th Congress Was AGAINST The Workingman . . . FOR The Labor Bosses

See the Reader's Digest, page 25, Sept. 1958 issue and the Life magazine issue of August 18, 1958.

The Democrat-controlled Congress gave no protection to the workingman against the abuses of the labor bosses. Even under the Democrat-proposed milk and water Kennedy-Ives measure, which fortunately was not enacted, the workingman got no help in barring convicted crooks from holding offices in his union. The workingman got no help in permitting him to sue to recover stolen union funds or property. The junior senator from Wisconsin . . . a Democrat . . . followed the line of the labor bosses. Why not? They admit they have over a quarter of a million dollars invested in him! Is this the kind of Congress YOU want?

Companies Required to Report to Stockholders Only Once Each Year

BY WILLIAM A. DOYLE

Q. Last April I bought some shares of a stock listed on the New York Stock exchange. I haven't received any financial statements from the company. I thought all companies send reports to stockholders every three months. Can you explain why I haven't received any yet?

A. Sure. It's because there's no rule that companies have to report to their stockholders every three months. Many do, because it's a sensible policy of stockholder relations. But they don't have to.

The regulation for companies whose stocks are listed on the New York Stock exchange is that they must report to stockholders once a year.

Besides this, most of the listed companies are under agreement to publish interim financial reports. About 91 per cent do this every three months and another 6 per cent do it every six months.

But these are published statements. They appear in the newspapers and such. The companies are not bound to send them to stockholders.

Annual Rules
The American Stock exchange and, as far as I know, all the regional exchanges around the country, have annual report rules.

Companies whose stocks are listed on any securities exchange must make a very detailed annual report and a semiannual report on sales and earnings to the Securities and Exchange commission. Unlisted companies which have securities registered with the SEC must file similar reports if the amount of those securities in the hands of the public tops $2 million.

Q. Do you think Beckman Instruments is a speculative stock? Maybe I should be ashamed to admit it, but I bought 100 shares six months ago on a tip from someone who has been very successful in the market.

A. Of course, it's a speculation. Even a fast look at it should tell you that. What did you do—buy it blindly without bothering to investigate it at all?

You should have a fat profit by this time. You're lucky.

Most tips don't work out that nearly 44 per cent on my way.

Beckman, because the company has a lot of advanced scientific projects going for it, old, unmarred, no dependence is considered to have plenty of potential. But it will remain a speculation until those projects pay off and the company's earnings improve. It ever get rich on this investment at a loss in the fiscal year ended June 30.

Q. I recently made my first move into the market by buying 75 shares of United States Tobacco at 27. The $1.28 a share annual dividend on this stock gives me a yield of

That may not impress some people. However, it provides the company with its biggest source of income. Profits from chewing tobacco, cigars and pipe tobacco add to its steady flow of income.

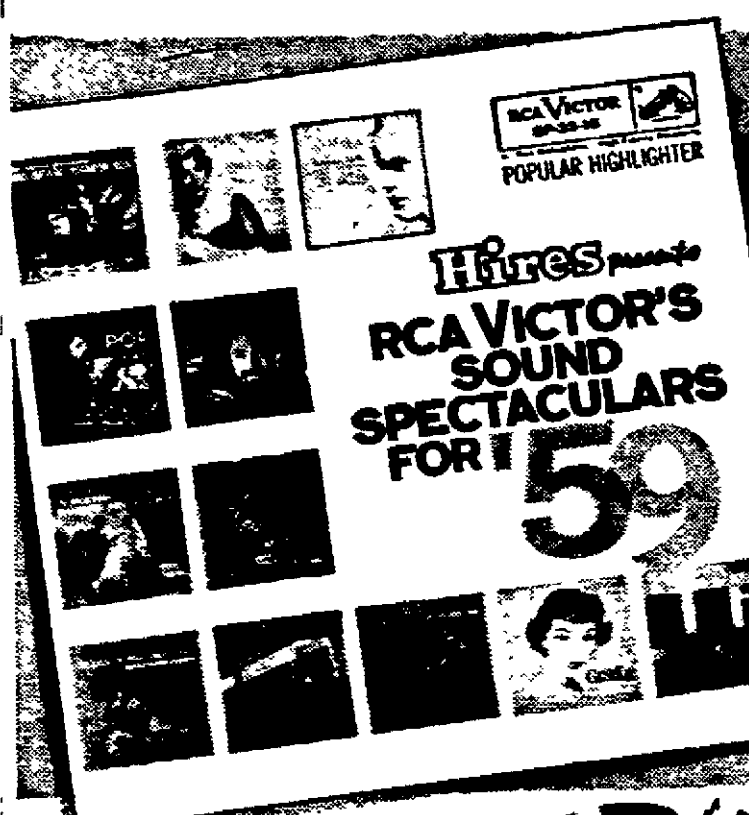

On top of this, the company's cigarettes have been selling well lately. It all adds up to a healthy situation.

Teachers May Okay Plan for 4-Year Degree

Resolution Being Prepared for Annual Convention

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison—Legislation that would make a 4-year training period a minimum requirement for teaching in any Wisconsin school will probably be endorsed at the annual convention of the Wisconsin Education Association at Milwaukee Nov. 6.

Officers of the association, after a poll of working teachers in Wisconsin, have reported overwhelming approval of such a plan and have prepared a resolution for the convention that would ask the 1959 legislature to enact such a law.

A 4-year college training requirement would affect most directly the thousands of rural schools in the state, many of which are staffed by certificated teachers graduated from the 2-year training courses of the county teachers' colleges.

Emergency Measures
Most of the city and village schools of the state already have such training requirements, except as some emergency teachers have been hired under temporary certificates by the state department of public instruction because of a shortage of supply.

Eighty-three per cent of state teachers in 99 local associations, have ratified the plan, it was said.

Safety Council Offers Tips For Halloween

San Francisco — On Halloween, light the way for trick and treaters so they won't trip in the dark.

Tie white strips on wires, holding up newly planted trees.

Take the children out of traditional black and orange Halloween costumes. Motorists might not see them. Put them in light-colored costumes garnished with reflecting tape.

Avoid masks because they restrict the vision. Use facial paints instead.

Light jack-o-lanterns with flashlights instead of candles. Take in your trash cans, lawn mowers or bicycles which might attract vandals.

Important Dates In Life of Pope

Vatican City—Here are some of the more important dates in the ecclesiastical life of Pope John XXIII:

Aug. 10, 1904 — Ordained priest.

March 9, 1925—Consecrated bishop.

1925—To Bulgaria as apostolic visitor.

Jan. 1, 1945—Presented his credentials to Gen. Charles de Gaulle as papal nuncio to France.

Jan. 12, 1953 — Became a cardinal.

Jan. 15, 1953—Named patriarch of Venice.

Oct. 28, 1958—Elected supreme pontiff of the Roman Catholic church.

Jazz Club Operates in Home of Composer

Bayreuth, Germany —

A jazz club is operating in the basement of Haus Wahnfried, opera composer Richard Wagner's famed villa. The jivers are the guests of Winifred Wagner, the composer's daughter-in-law.

The jazz club had been meeting once a week on a large balcony across from the Wagner villa. With autumn's cool breezes, the lovers of hot music advertised for warmer quarters.

Mrs. Wagner welcomed the club to her sound-proofed cellar. That's better than jazz on a balcony near her bedroom window, she explained.

Old Timers Praised as Workers by Teenagers

BY EUGENE GILBERT

Parents who have the idea their children look upon them as living relics of a prehistoric civilization will be happy to know that teenagers have more confidence in the abilities of old folks than many employers.

While these kids may regard Mom and Dad as older than Methuselah, they are, for the most part, willing to let grandpa work as long as he is able.

The tendency in industry to bounce employees into mandatory retirement once they reach 65 wins little favor among today's teenagers.

Seventy-eight per cent of the youngsters we interviewed in a nationwide survey insist that not only are many men capable of working beyond their 65th year but in many cases are preferable to younger workers because of their maturity and experience.

Head on Shoulders
"I'll take an old geezer with a good head on his shoulders to most young guys I've met," answered 15-year-old Sandy Lawson, Dallas, Tex.

A breakdown on the figures shows 81 per cent of the boys and 77 per cent of the girls regarded the average worker over 65 as "just as capable" as a man 20 or 30 years his junior. Only 13 per cent of both boys and girls thought the older man "less capable," and 6 per cent of the boys and 8 per cent of the girls looked upon him as "more capable."

The fact that these kids do not go overboard in either exaggerating or minimizing the talents of an older worker would indicate that youth has given the retirement question a cool and unemotional appraisal.

Sad Comment
Pat Kaplan, an 18-year-old college freshman from New York City, found it a "sad commentary on our society for the most part, willing to let grandpa work as long as he is able."

The 13 per cent who favored mandatory retirement at 65 thought in terms of the welfare of the older man and the morale of his younger co-worker.

"What good are workers who are old and mentally fatigued?" asked 16-year-old Laird Burnett, Lansing, Mich. "A man who works 40 to 45 years should be made to retire. The question was limited to white collar workers in order to put emphasis on mental agility rather than physical endurance."

Won't Pick Age
The answers—or lack of answers—to this question definitely surprised us, as it probably will you. Exactly 50 per cent of the boys and girls surveyed refused to pick a particular age for white collar retirement. In a variety of wordings, they indicated that retirement depended upon the health, stamina and mental attitude of the individual worker.

"Some people age faster than others," was a typical comment. One girl wryly commented: "I worked for a 70-year-old man this summer and he had more life and humor in him than my boy friend. You're only as old as you feel."

Of those who picked a particular age, 25 per cent thought the white collar man should retire sometimes between 65 and 70; 8 per cent held out for 75 and 5 per cent though he was good until 80.

Other Side
On the opposite side of the scale, 10 per cent would retire him at 60 and 2 per cent at 50.

In line with these opinions, would teenagers favor a change in the present social security retirement age of 65? No, answered 62 per cent, leave the law as it is. The sudden they fall apart into majority of these made it senility and death, when they clear they had no objection to might have been good for an-people retiring voluntarily at other 10 to 15 years on the 65 or any other age, their gripe was against mandatory retirement.

Of those advocating a change in the social security Both are perfectly willing to law, 26 per cent would lower the retirement age to something less than 65 and only 12 per cent would increase it.

Barbara Randolf, a 17-year-old high school senior from Suffolk county, Long Island, also mentioned the debilitating effect that mandatory retirement may have on people who retain full possession of their faculties at 65.

"First they are thrown out of their jobs and put on pension," she related. "Then they see younger men and women taking over. They seem to lose the will and desire to go on living. All of a sudden they fall apart into senility and death, when they clear they had no objection to might have been good for an-people retiring voluntarily at other 10 to 15 years on the 65 or any other age, their gripe was against mandatory retirement.

So cheer up Mom and Dad. You're not as old as you think. Sis and Junior think you are. Both are perfectly willing to have you go on working for a long, long time.

An Easy Supper with a tang—kebabs served with a savory rice dish. The kebabs are made with canned luncheon meat and the rice is of the minute variety.

Canned Meat Useful for Quick Meal

BY EDITH M. BARBER

Every one who has a problem of getting supper or dinner in a short time, likes to keep on hand a few cans of ready-to-use canned meat products.

There is an occasional emergency in every household when there is little time for marketing or even for planning meals ahead of time.

Perhaps there was a long line when you went to vote and you were delayed longer than you expected. Or, perhaps, that afternoon bridge featured an unusually long rubber. Or, you may have had late callers.

In any case, you're glad indeed that the pantry shelves are well stocked. Many of the canned meats can be served hot. For instance, if you have long skewers, a can of luncheon meat cubed and broiled with alternate wedges of tomatoes and small onions can be made very flavorful if basted with garlic flavored salad dressing. These are almost as good done in the broiler of your range as when they are prepared outdoors done over the coals.

An easy accessory for this can be furnished by the use of instant mashed potatoes or pre-cooked rice. These are two products that are indeed appreciated by the cook when she is faced by the problem of putting a meal on the table in practically no time.

Quick Kebabs
1 envelope old-fashioned garlic salad dressing mix
1 can (12 ounces) luncheon meat, cut in 1-inch cubes
4 medium tomatoes, cut in wedges
Medium onions, sliced, or canned whole onions
Prepare salad dressing mix with vinegar, water, and salad oil according to directions on envelope.

Place luncheon meat cubes, tomato wedges and onion slices or whole onions on metal skewers.

Place on aluminum foil in preheated broiler about five inches from heat for 10 to 15 minutes. Turn frequently and baste with dressing.

Savory Rice
3 cups cooked minute rice.
2 tablespoons minced onion
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon Tabasco sauce, or 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
2 tablespoons chili sauce
2 tablespoons butter
1 cup pickle relish, or chopped sweet or dill pickles
Combine all ingredients and heat, while stirring with fork, over low heat.

If an outdoor grill is used, the rice and the other ingredients may be combined, sealed well in foil, and heated over the grill about 15 minutes.

Food Faddism Growing Problem, Says Doctor

Dr. R. E. Olson Points Out Factors of Emotional Nature That Affect Diets

Food faddism is becoming an increasingly serious problem because faddists — capitalizing on food's emotional and symbolical values — appeal to the public's hopes, fears, and superstitions, says Dr. Robert E. Olson of the University of Pittsburgh's graduate school of public health.

Pointing out that knowledge of the emotional value of food is much older than knowledge of its nutritional value, Dr. Olson said the urge to eat is one of the primordial human urges. In prehistoric times, food was obtained solely to satisfy this urge.

Although food scarcity is no longer a problem in certain parts of the world, food is still visualized by many in an emotional context — more as a sign of cultural identity, he said.

Emotional Factors

Because of these emotional factors, Dr. Olson said there is a tendency to accept food from those considered friends, to distrust food from outsiders, and in some cases to completely reject food from strangers or persons from an alien environment or culture. Many persons also consider certain foods to be masculine (meat), feminine (vegetables and fruits) or neuter (eggs, fish, coffee).

Dr. Olson said there are two general kinds of food faddism — individual and collective. The former stems from acute or chronic psychological aberrations. A good example of this is the craving for cornstarch, clay, chalk, charcoal or tree bark, usually associated with pregnancy. Other symptoms of food neuroses are "gourmet" longings for kangaroo tails, fried grasshoppers, baby bees, or pickled ants.

Collective food faddism, however, is defined by Dr. Olson as group acceptance of a stereotyped dietary practice designed to improve health or cure disease. This includes belief in the following food fallacies:

Food Fallacies

Ascribing to a single food or group of foods a special attribute or power which is out of proportion to its nutritional content. Foods widely promoted in this manner include yogurt, black strap molasses, wheat germ oil, brown sugar, "live" honey, and seaweed.

The belief that only fresh fruits and vegetables grown from fields with organic fertilizers are nutritionally adequate. As Dr. Olson points out, exhaustive biochemical analyses have failed to disclose any significant nutritional differences between foods grown with chemical or organic fertilizers.

The dangerous belief that certain foods, or systems of dieting, have a specific value out of proportion to the established facts of diet therapy in the treatment of certain diseases. For many cultists, food taste, consistency, and extent of mastication are the critical factors in promoting health. Other cultists advocate drastically restricted menus in the treatment of obesity—"bananas and milk," "steak and prunes," "raw tomatoes and hard boiled eggs."

How to Combat

To combat food faddism effectively, Dr. Olson suggested an educational program which would present, in an interesting manner, facts about nutrients, food values, diets food faddist, in basing his appeal solely on man's emotional response to food, is a reminder that any nutritional education program that ignores the emotional aspects of food and diet stands little chance of success.

Dr. Olson also recommended improvement in physicians' clinical nutrition standards of practice. The family physician, he emphasized, should be the first court of appeal in the matters of proper nutrition.

Says American Navy Deters Red Aggression

St. Louis —Adm. Arleigh Burke, chief of naval operations, says American seapower is an unknown factor to communists, and acts as a deterrent to their plans for aggression.

He described the Sixth fleet in the Mediterranean as "a symbol of diplomacy, strength

The Seventh fleet, in the far east, he said is "a strong restraining factor against the use of communist military force."

Lactalbumin, The Protein "Booster" From Milk, Gives It A "More Complete Protein-To-Calorie Ratio"†

In the brain's hypothalamic region, the appetite control center acts, in normal people, to increase your appetite . . . or to reduce your appetite.

Eating any good protein, carbohydrate food 30 to 60 minutes before your regular meal can help you curb your appetite.

Obviously, the less you crave food . . . the less you eat!

Follow The Profile Bread Plan To Help Control Weight

Eating two slices of Profile Bread 30 minutes before lunch or dinner should appease your appetite. So the average person can avoid gaining weight. That is the essence of the Profile Bread Plan for controlling weight.

Then there are the people who find it possible to reduce by one means or another, but find it difficult to control their weight after reducing.

Thus, may start gaining weight again. The simplest way to weight control is through appetite control. That's where the Profile Bread Plan comes in. To help you appease appetite — to avoid gaining weight.

Four slices of Profile Bread cost about a nickel. Many ordinary wafers, pills, and tablets, used for hunger appeasement, cost up to twice as much. Thus, the Profile Bread Plan can help curb appetite for less money.

More Complete Protein For Health
Actually, ounce for ounce, Profile Bread gives you about 24% more complete protein than ordinary white or whole wheat bread. Because it contains the protein "booster" from milk—lactalbumin.

4 slices supply about as much complete protein as 1 egg. Note chart below for vitamin and mineral content.

The more complete protein content of Profile Bread is of especial value to children who need more complete protein per pound of body weight than adults.

Incidentally, be sure to eat a well-balanced diet for sufficient vitamins and minerals.

Cookies Make Perfect Snack For Afternoon

No matter whether it's a football game, a hike in the country or just an afternoon of raking leaves or cleaning the car, autumn activities stimulate appetites for mid-afternoon snacks.

Many homemakers have found the solution to their problem in a well-filled cookie jar since nothing satisfies mid-day hunger pangs better than cookies.

Cookie variety with minimum effort is to choose a recipe from which several kinds of cookies can be made. One such recipe is for Ginger Crisps, a delectable treat which blends the goodness of whole bran cereal and molasses with the flavor of tangy spices.

Ginger Crisps
2 cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking soda
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon ginger
2-3 cup soft butter
1 1/2 cups sugar
1 egg
1 cup molasses

1 cup bran cereal
Sift together flour, soda, salt and spices.
Blend butter and one cup of the sugar; add egg and beat well.
Stir in molasses, sifted dry ingredients and bran.
Form dough into balls about one inch in diameter; roll in remaining one-quarter cup sugar. Place about three inches apart on ungreased baking sheets. Bake in oven about 14 minutes at 350 degrees.

Variation
Mix one and one-half teaspoons cinnamon with remaining one-fourth cup sugar before rolling balls of dough.

foods, and cheese spreads generally have superior melting and cooking qualities, and as critical. However, the processed products lack the flavor of natural cheese.

Crumbs should be sprinkled over cheese dishes for baking with a tooth pick. Brown in to prevent surface drying of lard or drippings and cook meat slowly.

Chicago Cook Sends Recipe For Beef Stew, Dumplings

BY FRANK KOHLER
Mrs E J Heroux, Chicago, doesn't approve of the sugar, wine and brandy in "Stew Lost Week end."

"Are you kidding?" she asks "How many average housewives cook with Madeira and brandy?"

We say, "not enough!"

Kohler prime objective of the Skillet club is to interest all cooks in turning out different and tastier dishes through increased but judicious use of the unusual in seasoning.

Stew Heroux
2 pounds cubed blade bone pot roast meat
2 tablespoons bacon fat.
6 small onions
2 cups cut green beans.
Bunch of carrots cut in 2-inch pieces
3 stalks of celery, cut ditto
Pinch of marjoram or rosemary Definitely no sugar!
Use a Dutch oven for this. Brown meat well in bacon fat, then cover with water and simmer until almost done; then add onions, beans, carrots and celery and simmer until the vegetables are tender.

Lemon-Nut Sauce Delicious With Ice Cream, Cake

Ice cream may still be the old favorite, but a new variation of the dessert is always welcome. Here's a sauce with which to top your vanilla ice cream generously.

Try it over a plain yellow cake, it will be equally delicious.

Lemon-Nut Sauce
3 cups walnut meats, quartered
1/2 cups honey
1/2 cups white corn syrup
1/2 cup water
1 cup lemon juice
1 cup orange juice
2 tablespoons vanilla extract
Bring to a boil the honey, corn syrup and water. Add nuts and boil gently for 10 minutes. Add bottled lemon juice and orange juice and boil three minutes longer. Remove from heat, add vanilla extract. Cool. Serve as sauce for ice cream.

Bulk Pork Sausage Mixed With Crushed Pineapple for Patties

To prepare, simply combine one and one-half pounds bulk pork sausage with a 14-ounce can of crushed pineapple. Be sure the pineapple is drained.

Shape this mixture into white patties, about 1/2-inch thick. Dip patties into beaten egg, then roll in crushed corn flakes.

Brown patties in melted lard, turning occasionally until done about 45 minutes.

Apple-Horseradish Sauce for Rib Roast

Next time a standing rib roast of beef is scheduled for the menu in your home... serve an Apple-Horseradish sauce as a nippy accompaniment.

Combine two tablespoons white vinegar, three apples, three tablespoons grated horseradish and two tablespoons sugar.

Remember to grate the apples directly into the vinegar so they'll remain white.

In Bygone Day

The great feasts of the fabulous Roman era often were topped by succulent oysters. To fill the demand, oysters were brought, packed in ice and snow, from far-off England.

Vanilla Almond Sticks

Cut raisin bread into finger lengths. Toast on one side. Spread untoasted side with a mixture of softened butter blended with chopped almonds and pure vanilla extract to taste. Place under broiler until toasted.

Many Kin Preceded Girl On Lawrence Campus

By Marguerite Schumann

If all the kinsmen of Alice deSwarte who came before her on the Lawrence college campus could be gathered from the four corners of the nation and set down in Memorial chapel, they would fill two entire rows in the center section.

For the Lawrence freshman from Evanston, Ill., is either number 24 or number 27 in a line of Williamses, depending from which side of the family you start counting.

Her forebears have been populating the campus since the 1880s. In the intervening years they have created a dynasty of Methodist ministers, educators and bankers. They have won three honorary degrees from Lawrence in addition to a stack of diplomas granted in course.

The first generation — a family of eleven children of a Methodist minister — sent six of their clan to the campus. There was the Rev. T. D. Williams, who got his bachelor's degree in 1889 and an honorary doctorate in 1922; there was William Watkin Williams, —Ruth, '13, Doris, '23, and 1895, who headed a number of business colleges as well as Lawrence's now-defunct liams category are Mr. and commercial dep a r t m e n t; Mrs. George Watson, the latter was the Rev. Since that time, the family hasn't been so unanimous in college choice, but the grand total of Williams' sisters and cousins and aunts are 24, counting Alice. Then, on her father's side, there are three extra deSwarte aunts, which brings the adjusted total to 27

Board Approves $117,400 Share in Airport Project $303,200 Development Includes Control Tower, Land for Runway

Oshkosh — Winnebago county board members Wednesday afternoon unanimously approved providing $117,400 as the county's share for the next stage in the airport development program.

The action was taken after a presentation of the 1959 program by T. K. Jordan, state aeronautics commissioner, and Supv. Alvin Staffeld, Neenah, aviation committee chairman.

The money is to be put into the 1959 budget being set this session. Supervisors said they still could vote later to remove all or part of it. Part of the discussion Wednesday was on whether to include $12,000 for air conditioning the new terminal.

Total cost of the 1959 project is estimated at $303,200, of which the federal government will provide $151,600, the state $29,200 and the county $122,400. The county last year provided the first $5,000 of its share in this project.

Included in Project

Next year's project includes construction of a flight control tower for $130,000, purchase for $80,000 of land for extension of the east-west runway which will be an instrument runway, expanding the blacktopping at the terminal parking lot for $23,200, expanding the airplane parking apron for $13,000, air conditioning the terminal for $12,000 and joining the northeast corner of the field to the east-west runway with a 600 foot taxiway costing $10,000. Another $25,000 is figured as engineering fees.

The 1960 program would be for paving of the extended east-west runway and making it into an instrument land-

Meeting Set for Summer Users of Wauwasha Power

Oshkosh — A second "district meeting" for members living outside of its area will be held at 8 p.m. Friday in the Courtyard room of the Wauwasha County Electric cooperative which headquarters at Wautoma.

This meeting will be attended by Lake Winnebago area people who have cottages or resorts served by this electric system in Wauwasha county or fringe areas of adjacent counties. There are about 175 of these member-owners of the Wauwasha co-op who have permanent residence in Fond du Lac, Oshkosh, Neenah-Menasha or Appleton.

To give seasonal members an opportunity to exercise their ownership rights, the Wauwasha co-op experimented a year ago with a district meeting for Milwaukee area members.

The success of that meeting has set the pattern for the Oshkosh session and others to be held in urban centers where members live in substantial numbers.

John Doe Probe Ordered Into Oshkosh Death

Schmidt the night she disappeared.

Dillman, wanted for questioning and for breaking his parole from the state reformatory on an auto theft conviction, has not been seen since Aug. 15, the night Miss Schmidt disappeared.

Question Others

Steinhilber said Dillman is one of several persons to be questioned. They were seen with the girl the night she disappeared.

Dillman is described as being 6 foot 1 inch tall and weighing 150 pounds, with reddish-brown hair, blue eyes and a Graunke, Janet Menning, brown hair.

Dillman, who was employed at a Menasha mill, was last seen with the Schmidt girl in a tavern several miles from where the body was found.

The district attorney said Dillman had served a sentence at the state reformatory at Green Bay for car theft. The sheriff's office card file on Dillman showed numerous complaints, dating back to 1951 and including traffic violations and petty crimes where no prosecution was made. His parole would have terminated Aug. 22.

Dillman attended Oshkosh High school for two years. He had been living with his parents in Oshkosh.

Steinhilber said there is nothing yet to show how Miss Schmidt died but the state crime laboratory should have its report within several days.

A medical autopsy was made Tuesday night and the report was sent to the state crime laboratory.

No Motive Discussion

The district attorney said a discussion of motives in the slaying would be "utter speculation" until the cause of death is determined and more is known about the girl's movements the night she disappeared.

The body of the blue-eyed blonde was found by three pheasant hunters at the edge of a weedy marsh, about 25 feet from an extension of Sand Pit road. The road runs into Highway 21 about four miles west of Oshkosh.

Miss Schmidt lived with her mother, Viola, a widow. The girl was an office worker employed by an abstract company in Oshkosh.

Private memorial services will be at 2 p.m. Saturday at a Lutheran church. Oshkosh. Burial, when the remains are released by the crime laboratory, will be in Lakeview Memorial park.

The Konrad Funeral home, Oshkosh, will be in charge of arrangements.

PAID ADV. Authorized, written and paid for by the Neenah Planning Group, D. Garlock, Chairman, Chamber of Commerce of Neenah-Menash, 112 W. Wisconsin Ave., Neenah, Wis.

An Open Letter to The Citizens of Neenah:

In keeping with our previously stated pledge, the Neenah Planning Group of the Chamber of Commerce of Neenah - Menasha urges your approval on November 4 of the bond issue for the construction of our much needed new police station

While we wholeheartedly support the referendum, we also reiterate our stand on a crucial phase of modern city planning which is becoming increasingly important to the deserving people of Neenah as well as to our business and industry, that of providing adequate and convenient off-street parking.

To briefly review our efforts and the thinking behind these actions which have come to your attention in recent weeks, the Planning Group obtained options on two sites just outside the downtown shopping area for the purpose of erecting a police station thereon. These options were turned over to the City, with the idea in mind that the use of either for police station purposes would insure widest use of the present City Hall block for off-street parking one block from our main downtown business street.

The options referred to were returned to us after the Common Council decided to erect the police station on their earlier selected site.

We stated at the time, and we again repeat, that in order to attract new stores and other businesses and to properly serve existing enterprises, plenty of adjacent parking should claim first priority in providing the climate necessary for investment in business building construction.

In our appearances before the Mayor of Neenah and the Common Council, we stressed the fact that we believed, with good reason, that reservation of the City Hall block for parking would be an inducement for new business construction nearby, with consequent increased tax revenues to the city as the result.

A start in that direction may now become a reality through recently announced plans for a contemplated forty-unit motel next to the Valley Inn Hotel, provided that adjacent over-night parking facilities are made available.

Use of those adjacent parking facilities for public buildings would undoubtedly stop the motel plan or any other business building construction of any magnitude in the hotel block between Doty and Wisconsin avenues.

In conclusion, we firmly support the referendum for the bond issue necessary for the erection of the new police station. At the same time, we strongly urge the creation of a general city plan which will determine, among other things, the proper placement of parking areas and city buildings. It is only through this approach that mistakes costly to the citizens and our business community can be avoided.

ing runway. Cost of this program is estimated at $177,000 of which the federal government will pay half.

Jordan mentioned the federal government desired construction of the flight control tower before the runway paving since traffic on the field has reached the extent to make a control tower necessary. The tower will be manned by federal employees.

Use of the airport has grown faster than the state expected, Jordan commented. The instrument runway could not be used until the tower is completed and the tower will increase safety. It would be located midway along the east-west runway.

Supv. John Heigl, Neenah, pointed to the $12,000 cost for air conditioning and remarked that the cost was $8,000 when it was proposed as part of the building cost. Aviation committee members replied it had been cut out then because it would run the cost over the $230,000 authorized.

Had we put it in then, the county would have ended up paying for most of it and this way we get federal aid for half of it, Joseph Drexler, county board chairman, replied.

A move by Supv. Norbert Redlin, Neenah, and seconded by Supv. R. M. Sensenbrenner, Menasha, to table the request for $117,400 until next week brought a charge of log rolling from Supv. Elmer Steinhilber, Oshkosh, who thought it meant "north end".

Redlin's motion received only three affirmative votes. It was pointed out supervisors still could make changes in the airport allotment when the budget came up for discussion. The resolution was to provide the money through the budget and to meet certain state requirements regarding airport funds.

If the land needed for the runway extension cannot be secured for $30,000 the county will have to pay the rest, Jordan indicated. Jordan pointed out the money for the work had been allocated by the federal government and would run out next July if not applied for.

The amount of land needed is 160 acres and is the rear portion along the properties west of the airport toward at busy corners so youngsters can get to and from school safely, Twin City crossing guards assist the children in the little emergencies which arise so frequently in their lives. Guards Assist Children, Report Traffic Violators

Neenah — "I just love it," said Mrs. Frank Vanishky, 104 E. Forest avenue, describing her job of four years as crossing guard for Roosevelt school at the corner of First street and E. Forest avenue. "The motorists are cooperative and the children are wonderful," added Mrs. Vanishky, a mother and grandmother herself. The children are her responsibility, explained the attractive and friendly guard, and she "certainly wouldn't want anything to happen to them."

Crossing guards, of which Neenah has seven and Menasha eight women and two men, have the authority to make arrests and often report license numbers of traffic offenders to policemen. The guards are sworn in as the policemen and their uniforms are furnished.

PTA Hears Analysis of Report, Misuse of Talents

Menasha — Every child has a right to education as far as his capacities, capabilities and interests will allow, John Mann, superintendent of Appleton schools, told Menasha Junior, Senior High school Parent-Teacher association members Wednesday evening in an analysis of the report of the Rockefeller foundation on "Pursuit of Excellence."

Pointing out the way abilities are used and misused, Mann said Negro citizens can acquire skills but are contained in using them after acquired. He used the example of a man trained as a lawyer but who worked as a train conductor as wasted talent.

Talents of women should not be wasted, those who are able to work, should do so. The report called for better use of older workers, pointing out many are still capable of carrying on after the retirement age. The report showed a lack in education in overseas personnel, basic research and in teaching.

"The pursuit of achievement for its own sake should be a latent force in our society, not for monetary reasons," he said. To insure motivation, a child should be exposed to the type of value which calls for high performance and be given a variety of choices, Mann emphasized.

Social committee members were Mrs. Joseph Drzewiecki, Mrs. George Sitzberger, Mrs. Stanley Smarzynski and Mrs. Robert Cook. The next meeting is Jan. 29.

Freeze Apples For Later Use In Desserts

Oshkosh — Apples in plentiful supply in markets can be frozen for later use as fruit cocktail, uncooked desserts, Mrs. George Sitzberger, Mrs. Stanley Smarzynski and Mrs. Robert Cook. The next meeting is Jan. 29.

If you wish to use the apples for uncooked desserts, seal and freeze. They are best frozen in sugar sirup. Dissolve three cups of sugar in four cups water. Add one-half cup sugar for each quart of fruit. As you slice the apples, drop them into a solution of two tablespoons salt to a gallon of water, then start with one-half cup sirup in each pint container and slice the apples right into the sirup. Use enough sirup to containers.

Jays Top Kimberly in 7-Year Grid Rivalry

Menasha Seeks 1st Clear Title Since '53 In Friday Encounter at Papermaker Field

Menasha — Menasha leads five games to two in its Mid-Eastern conference series with Kimberly going into Friday's all-important clash at Kimberly. A victory or a tie will give the Bluejays the undisputed league championship while a loss will give the Papermakers a share of the bunting. The Menashans last won the championship in 1953 when they beat Neenah in the last game of the season for the clear title. They last tied the previous year when they and the Rockets had 6-1 slates. Kimberly won the 1955 crown. Menasha and Kimberly began meeting in Mid-Eastern conference play in 1951 and the Jays capped an unbeaten season by recording a 41-0 triumph. Notch 19-0 Win In 1952, their first visit to Kimberly, the Menashans came home with a 19-0 triumph and they won, 12-0, the

Zephyrs Lead In Series With Marinette '11'

Boast 4 Straight Verdicts Including Forfeit Win in '57

Menasha — St. Mary holds a 10-2-2 record in its composite Fox Valley Catholic conference series against Marinette Catholic Central (formerly Lourdes) going into tonight's game at Butte des Morts field. The Zephyrs won the easy way last year, without having to don their togs or make the journey to Marinette. Because its thin ranks were further reduced by illness and injuries, Lourdes forfeited. The victory came a lot easier than the three previous verdicts. St. Mary won the 1956 game, 13-7, tallying the deciding touchdown in the last 50 seconds. Come From Behind Three years ago, when St. Mary had its only undefeated, untied season, it pulled out an 18-13 triumph after trailing 13-0 with 30 seconds left in the third period. The year before that John DeYoung ran 98 yards with a punt with just a few seconds left to give St. Mary a 13-7 win after trailing 7-6. St. Mary capped the 1952 game, 19-13, and the two ties were recorded in 1951 and 1953, both 7-7. Lourdes two triumphs came in 1949 and 1950. St. Mary won the first five games in the series which began in 1932. '42 Club Unbeaten The Zephyrs will try for their third season without a loss in history. Their only untied season came in 1955 when they registered seven straight triumphs. The 1942 squad was unbeaten but its record was marred by a 6-6 tie with Two Rivers. A win would give the current team seven wins and a tie. Among the seniors who will be playing their final football game for the Zephyrs are Joe Rechner and Bob VandenHeuvel, ends; Fran Voissem and Tom Makofski, tackles; George Wiegand, center, and Gary Bailey, George Walbrun, Ed Lotzer and Tom Balthazor, backs. Rechner, Voissem, Makofski, Wiegand, Bailey, Lotzer and Balthazor have been regulars for the last two seasons. Walbrun and sophomore fullback Bob Jensen will be kept out of action tonight because of injuries. Paul Walbrun will take Jensen's No. 2 fullback spot while Bailey or Don Karisny probably will fill in for Walbrun at defensive safety.

Packer Payroll Third in League, Director Tells

Neenah — The average Green Bay Packer salary is $10,000 and the Boys' payroll ranks third in the western division of the pro league. Hugh Strange, a member of the Packer board of directors, told the Neenah Quarterback club Wednesday night. Strange mentioned the Packer salary total is exceeded only by the Bears and Lions. The speaker pointed out that 3,400 season tickets are held by Neenah. Menasha and Appleton residents. He told that Green Bay only gained 8,000 more seats by moving into their new stadium but the revenue increased from $84,000 to $134,000 because of the larger number of top-priced seats. The Packer director stated a visiting team is guaranteed $25,000 or 30 per cent of the gross gate after 17 per cent is deducted. He added that a certain percentage from every game goes to the commissioner's office, even from the intra-squad game at Menasha a couple of years ago. Strange declared that the Packers soon will lose one of their more lucrative enterprises, the Thanksgiving day test at Detroit. The turkey game is the only one which is on nation-wide television. All of the other games kauna isn't a fancy or big club but has a group of boys who like to hit. He said all of the Neenah players will be available except possibly tackle Harlan Hirschy and

Ross Cracks 553 Trio for Honors In Banta League

Menasha — Bob Ross tallied a 553 series for the only honor count in the Banta Men's Bowling league Wednesday night at Menasha Recreation alleys. There were no honor games of 225. Pressroom won three games and now has a 19-5 record for a 4-game lead over Offset Press. Printers and Office also swept their matches. Nancy Coenen's 197 single-ton was the peak effort in the Wednesday Night Ladies Bowling league at Menasha Recreation. None of the series totaled 500. Jitter and Joe's is in first place with a 20-7 record. Marv's Tap has 19-17 for second and the next three clubs have 16-11 records. Leaves Hospital Menasha — Menasha City Clerk Ira Clough, who underwent major abdominal surgery in September, is now recuperating at his home. back Jim Hensen, who has seen very little action this fall. The coach declared that the Rockets have come a long way since the start of the season. He cited the work of senior fullback Steve Stimp, who scored three touchdowns against Shawano. Underclassmen Tried Batterman pointed out that Shawano didn't provide much of a test. Every player saw action and underclassmen were tried at several defensive spots to gain experience. The Rocket mentor said he was disturbed about the jayvee team which took a 23-6 licking at Shawano Monday night. He reported that some of the boys haven't come along as the coaches would like to have them and if they don't improve next year their positions may be taken over by members of this year's frosh squad. Batterman told that the Rockets will lose about 13 or 14 seniors from the current squad, of which six or seven will be missed severely. Seniors mentioned included Dale Ramich, Don Jensen, Hirschy, Larry Rymer, Dick Bruce, Jerry Moder, Bill Kuehl, Jon Lafin, Gary Ellis, Hensen, Stimp, Jim Beck, Paul Strange, Bob Tollefson and Arnold Peterson. Line coach Joe Braun told that the offensive line improved as the season progressed but Neenah was not a tough defensive club. Farm Group Hears Report On Leases, Land Transfers Oshkosh — Sixty Winnebago county farms heard a discussion by A. O. Follett, extension economist in farm management, on farm leases, father-son arrangements and transfers of property in their third farm management short course meeting Wednesday night at the Omro High school vocational agricultural building.

In former years a 50-50 farm lease was considered standard, he said. Both the tenant and the landlord shared equally. Today the 50-50 farm lease is considered obsolete and there is no one standard lease arrangement.

Follett showed an example where in 1950 on a 50-50 lease the landlord and tenant shared approximately equally. The same farm in 1952 on a 50-50 lease arrangement showed that the tenant's share of expenses was 60 per cent and the landlord's 40 per cent. The increase in this percentage of expense for the tenant has come from the higher cost of machinery and labor.

Father-Son Agreements
In setting up a father-son operating agreement, Follett said we should ask ourselves if the farm is big enough to produce a living for two families. Both parties in a father-son agreement should receive a fair percentage return according to their contribution to the farm. Ordinarily when a son furnishes fulltime labor

Families of 74 Veterans Given County Relief

Oshkosh — Veterans relief took a jump this year as the result of the recession and aid has been granted to 74 families who are veterans or their dependents. The aid for the last 12 months totaled $4,082.

Carl Loehning, Neenah, veterans service commission secretary, said the commission is asking $6,000 as its budget for next year, which is double that granted this year.

A breakdown of the cases shows 50 Oshkosh families received a total of $3,203, six Neenah families got $259, five Menasha families shared $154, four Winneconne families were granted $70, one town of Neenah family was given $40, two town of Menasha families received aid totaling $55, and two town of Rushford families collected $70.

Townships with one family each receiving aid and the amount received were town of Oshkosh, $30; town of Vinland, $80; town of Nepeuskun, $60; and town of Utica, $60.

Of the expenses paid, $2,918 was in grocery orders, $115 in rent and board, $107 in fuel, $53 in clothes, $59 in electricity and $830 in cash.

Book Week Program Set At Neenah

Neenah — National Book week will be observed with a special display of new books and collections of interest at the Neenah Public library, according to Miss May Hart, librarian.

Another highlight is visits from grade school classes. Because of the high increase in school enrollment in the last few years, the program has been expanded to two weeks. Youngsters from the third through sixth grade inclusive will be handled during the two week period. Pupils from the first and second grades will be taken through the library in December, the librarian said. The program opens Monday.

The public also is invited to visit the library while the displays are set up. One feature for the adults will be a section with ideas on Christmas buying.

National Book week was inaugurated 41 years ago with the idea of putting more books in the home and promoting reading among children. Booksellers, publishers and librarians gave the program such support through the years that it has expanded to national interest.

Pope John XXIII Manages to keep smiling as crowds of priests and high ranking laymen crowd into his Vatican quarters to greet their new spiritual leader. One of the well wishers, a Msgr. Di Pasquale, clings to the pontiff's hand and others wait to greet him.

College of Cardinals Pay Formal Tribute to Pope for Third Time

Pontiff Started His Rein in Too Tight Robes, Tailor Says

Rome — Pope John XIII started his pontificate in too tight robes even though the papal tailor had a set of stylish stouts cut to his size. The tailor, Annibale Gammarelli, disclosed today that Angelo Cardinal Roncalli, weighing 205 pounds, was one of the four prospective pontiffs to whose varying shapes he cut a papal wardrobe in advance. The idea was that the new pope could appear properly dressed immediately after the college of cardinals elected him.

But Gammarelli said when the prince of the church elected Cardinal Roncalli Tuesday to succeed Pius XII, attendants in their excitement grabbed the wrong robes, a set made for a smaller man.

Pope John appeared in the snug garments on the balcony of St. Peter's Basilica in the traditional followup to the election. It was not until yesterday that he received the larger set.

The tailor had figured that one of his four models would become pope, and that anyone else chosen would approximate one of his models in size. His choices in addition to Cardinal Roncalli were Gregory Peter Cardinal Agagianian, patriarch of Cilicia of the Armenians; Ernesto Cardinal Ruffini, archbishop of Palermo, and Giuseppe Cardinal Siri, archbishop of Genoa.

The pope's new wardrobe includes 3 gowns of white wool, 3 cassocks of white moire silk, a mozzetta (short cape) of crimson satin, 1 Camau (cap) of crimson satin, 3 sashes of white moire silk, 3 skullcaps of white moire silk, 3 pairs of shoes of crimson satin, 1 hat of crimson satin. Gammarelli wouldn't say which set of robes the new pope wore first. But presumably they were the ones cut by Cardinals Ruffini or Siri St. Charles Borromeo. The Cardinal Agagianian new pontiff has long admired that saint, a leading figure in

Two Workers Killed in Utah Explosion

Spanish Fork, Utah — One thousand pounds of jelly explosives blew a shed and two workmen to bits yesterday. The explosion occurred at a Cyanamid company officials listed the two employees as "missing." The victims were Ross J. Jex, 40, and John D. O'Neal, 30, Springfield, Utah.

They were veteran powder men in the company's sprawling explosives plant southeast of this central Utah town. The shed was one of several embedded in a hillside for safety reasons — making up the plant's gelatin packing unit.

Cause of the blast was not known. Probers said identification of the pieces of clothing and bodies they found was impossible. No one else was hurt, but two nearby buildings were damaged slightly.

It had been anticipated that the pontiff would order the coronation the following Sunday, Nov. 9, in line with custom that a pope is crowned (1) within two weeks of his election, (2) on a Sunday, and (3) as late as possible so that foreign governments would have sufficient time to send representatives.

But Pope John picked Nov. 4, only a week after his election, because it is the feast of Cardinals Ruffini or Siri St. Charles Borromeo. The new pontiff has long admired that saint, a leading figure in

Vatican Officials Push Preparations For Coronation

Vatican City — The College of Cardinals paid formal homage to Pope John XXIII today for the third successive day.

The new pontiff of the Roman Catholic church was seated on his throne before the altar of the Sistine chapel. One by one, the princes of the church who elected him two days ago approached, knelt and kissed his hand.

The cardinals made their first act of obedience to the new pope immediately after his election Tuesday. Their second homage was performed yesterday just before Pope John made his first radio address to the world, an appeal for peace.

Officials of the Vatican meanwhile were busy with preparations for the coronation of Pope John next Tuesday. The most colorful of all ceremonies of the Roman Catholic church, it likely will be televised throughout western Europe.

It had been anticipated that the pontiff would order the coronation the following Sunday, Nov. 9, in line with custom that a pope is crowned (1) within two weeks of his election, (2) on a Sunday, and (3) as late as possible so that foreign governments would have sufficient time to send representatives.

But Pope John picked Nov. 4, only a week after his election, because it is the feast of Cardinals Ruffini or Siri St. Charles Borromeo. The new pontiff has long admired that saint, a leading figure in

Denies Charges at His Court Martial

Fl. Jackson, S. C. — First Lt. Gerald L. Wheatley, 23, of Bridgeton, N. J., pleaded innocent today to three charges of assault and battery, two of conduct unbecoming an officer and one of maltreating recruits. Wheatley's general court martial is the third in two weeks as results of rugged punishment imposed on recruits in the training company he commanded at this army post last summer.

Convicted previously were Master Sgt. George Sovie, 20, of Ogdensburg, N. Y., and Sgt. Charles Moman, 28, of Empire, Ala. Each was reduced one grade in rank and fined $450 and $300 respectively.

Seek Compromise On Arms Issue

United Nations, N. Y. — An 11th hour attempt to work out a compromise satisfactory to both Russia and the United States. They were given little chance of success.

Indian Delegate Arthur Lall asked the committee to hold off meeting until this afternoon while efforts were made to work out a resolution that could get unanimous support and furnish a bright note for the start of the Geneva Big Three talks on a nuclear weapon test ban.

Lall's request came in the wake of a Nepalese proposal that committee Chairman Rafael Urquia of El Salvador appoint a working party representing all views and the major geographical regions of the world to try to work out some compromise.

3 Greek Cypriots Sentenced to Die

Nicosia, Cyprus — Three Greek Cypriots convicted of firing on a group of Turkish Cypriots last August during the height of Greek-Turkish communal clashes were sentenced to death today.

The condemned men are Niccos Ioannou, 22, Costas Papiacovou, 52, and Yiannis Ekatsouris, 57, all of Korni Kebir village.

One British soldier was killed and another seriously wounded this morning when their vehicle ran over a mine near Cape Elias, about 20 miles north of Famagusta.

Democratic Outlook Almost Too Good, Truman Declares

St. Louis —(AP)— Harry Truman says Democratic party prospects in the upcoming elections seem "almost too good to be true."

But he told newsmen Monday that the Gallup poll productions of sweeping Democratic gains disturb him.

"They said the same thing about the Republicans in 1948, you remember," he said. That was the year Truman defeated Thomas E. Dewey in the presidential election. The polls predicted a Dewey victory.

Commenting on a remark by Vice President Richard Nixon that Nixon might like to play a piano duet with Truman, the former president snapped:

"I'm not going to try doing anything with Nixon except beat him."

Study Fuel Substitute Which Could Double Power of Auto

Berkeley, Calif. —(AP)— A chemical substitute for motor fuel which could double the power output of automobiles and aircraft engines is being investigated here.

Development of a successful fuel from these compounds could mean engines that would be less than half the size and weight of present engines but have as much power as present ones, said Ernest S. Starkman, who heads the testing project.

Test Results
Starkman is an associate professor of aeronautical engineering at the University of California. He announced results of initial tests showing the energy output of the compounds compared with conventional gasolines.

The compounds are known chemically as nitro-paraffins. They are made by mixing methane, propane, butane and other petroleum products with nitric acid.

These compounds are relatively expensive, Starkman said, but if produced in quantity the fuel could be made economically.

Whether the nitro-paraffins are explosive is a matter of varying opinion among authorities. Prof. Starkman said he did not consider them any more dangerous than gasoline. Hot-rodgers sometimes mix them with gasoline to increase the power output of their engines.

One of the problems, the engineer said, is pre-ignition—when an overheated engine causes premature explosion of the compressed fuel and air mixture. Starkman said, however, that present engines probably could be modified to use the compounds without pre-ignition trouble.

Useful in Diesels
The nitro-paraffins might be especially useful in diesel engines, Starkman said, because pre-ignition there is an advantage. They also could help to reduce diesel smoke, he added.

Main use for the fuels in ordinary automobiles, he said, probably would be as second-dary fuels to provide sudden spurts of power.

Unemployment Pay Change Is Sought by Firm

State Asks Variation In Maximum Benefits

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — The largest corporation in the Wisconsin labor market has proposed state legislation that would provide significant changes in the pioneering Wisconsin unemployment compensation act.

The Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing company, which employs more Wisconsin residents than any other company, is sponsoring legislation that would install the variable maximum method of reimbursing covered employees laid off their jobs.

Central to the plan is the substitution for dependency benefits, on a graduated basis, for the single and flat maximum benefit rate for all claimants which has been in effect since the Wisconsin unemployment insurance act was adopted nearly a quarter of a century ago. Similar provisions have been enacted in other states, and notably in neighboring Michigan.

No Support?
Informal expressions here from sources familiar with the attitudes of business management indicates considerable doubt that employers generally will support the departure from the traditional method of administering the jobless benefit program. The West Allis company would be eligible for a new spokesman holds that varying maximum of $55 weekly.

Approve Bid Ads for Marion Post Office

Marion — The post office department has authorized advertising for a new building to be occupied under lease at Marion.

It will be built on the southeast corner of Waupaca and Clinton streets. The department has an option to purchase the land from the present owner, Anton Malweg, route 1, Marion.

The building will be 1-story of brick and concrete block. Inside dimensions will be 38x55 feet providing 2,090 square feet of space.

Bids must be submitted not later than Dec. 15.

benefits according to individual need fits within the original purpose of the unemployment compensation act, and that the relatively higher benefits permitted to single employees under the present law tend to reduce their incentive to return to work or to seek alternative employment when laid off.

Some employer groups, however, are likely to resist the principle as a possible precedent for future wage bargaining. It is felt in informed quarters here.

As Allis Chalmers proposes the program, it would continue the present maximum weekly benefit rate for the covered workman with no dependents and earning $74 a week or more, and then graduate the benefits, so the unemployed worker with four dependents and a wage of $108 would be eligible for a new spokesman holds that varying maximum of $55 weekly.

'Naked City' Series Has New York for Locale

Centers on Police Force, but No Ordinary Cops-Robbers Show

BY CHARLES MERCER

New York—The "Naked City" is an excellent series in which, among other things, the television cameras have a love affair with the city of New York.

Filmed on location in Manhattan, the Tuesday night series bases its action on the experiences of a 30-year man on the New York police force (played by John McIntire) who is breaking in a rookie detective (played by James Franciscus). It's not just another cops-and-robbers thriller. The reasons for its success can best be explained by its talented writer, Stirling Silliphant, who said: "The secret of a successful half-hour television show is that it should have practically no plot."

Silliphant is one of those writers, of whom there are many distinguished examples, who finds his ideas stimulated by a place or locale. A place—Queensborough bridge, Welfare Island, Riverside church, a huge garbage disposal unit, to name a few in New York—can virtually create characters and situations in a writer's mind, Silliphant finds.

Mental Block

Yet it's interesting that he ever managed to write about New York at all.

"For a long time New York exercised a kind of mental block on me as a writer," he said. "I lived here for 14 years and couldn't write a line. Then I moved to the west coast four years ago and—well—"

Well, he's done very well indeed as a prolific writer—a novel, more than 50 television scripts, several excellent movie scripts.

"Maybe New York was too stimulating when I lived here to leave me any time to write," he said. "Maybe there were too many people. I'm a beach man, I guess. Give me an open sea and nobody around and I can write. I found after I moved to Malibu on the Pacific."

At first, when he came east to search out locales for the Herbert B. Leonard production of "The Naked City," he was skeptical that he would be able to write here. Happily, he found that mental block had evaporated. "Now I could write on the corner of 42nd street and Broadway if I had to."

Here and There

Silliphant splits the month between Malibu and New York. There he does most of his writing. Here he prowls the streets and seeks out the locations that spark his ideas. Recently, for example, he was wandering around the lower west side of Manhattan when he saw a building that excited his curiosity. It was what the city calls a "destructor plant"—a huge incinerator operation.

What is the most fascinating object that might be caught up on conveyor belts and started toward 2,000-degree ovens? A body, of course. And, of course, Silliphant was on his way with another idea for another script.

"The Naked City" is not one of those series which claims to be based on official police files and that sort of hocus-pocus. It does not presume to be anything more than it is: A series of credible, human dramas about the people and places of New York.

Bob Hope Says He's Expected To Kid Bigwigs

These laments feel that the age of political satire is past, that there are too many sacred cows now. You often hear the claim: Will Rogers couldn't conduct his spoofing of politicians if he were alive today.

"Nonsense," says Hope. "I see no reason why Rogers couldn't be doing his act today. Once you build up certain trade marks, you can get away with more than the new comers can. People expect me to kid politicians, they'd be disappointed if I didn't."

"I guess it wouldn't be wise when Hope told political jokes for me to play Little Rock at a luncheon for President Eisenhower during the late-a lunch break of "Alas Jesse" political visit here. There James. "I've been getting

Let's Keep Majority Representation

A vote for Ken Priebe in the Independent column is a vote for majority representation in government. You'll agree, we're sure, that 70% of the Republican voters should not be dictated to by a group whose candidate received only 30% of the vote. If we must vote in the Independent column to change that result, let's do it November 4!

"Integrity in Government Must Reflect The Integrity of The People."

1st District Assemblyman

Kimberly Chief Warns Against Any Vandalism

Extra Police Added For Friday Night to Help Handle Crowds

Kimberly — Extra precautions against vandalism will be taken by the Kimberly police department Halloween night as the entire force along with auxiliary police will be on duty, according to Quentin Williams, chief.

He reminds parents they will be held responsible for any damage done by minors. All police will be instructed to tolerate no foolishness and to keep crowds from assembling, particularly after the Kimberly - Menasha football game.

The chief urged parents to have younger children take advantage of the parties being offered by the recreation department and to stress the importance of being careful when crossing streets. Heavy traffic is anticipated in the village Friday as the football game will determine the Mid-East championship.

Bright Costumes
If youngsters are out after dark in costumes, the chief advised clothing which could be seen in the dark or otherwise have youngsters carry a flashlight or lighted pumpkin which motorists could see in the dark. Older students are advised not to join in "trick or treat" fun as this should be confined to little tots.

Adults can avoid difficulty by putting lawn furniture or moveable items inside for the night and residents are asked to notify police if they notice anything which might lead to trouble.

'Trip to Moon' Chosen as Theme For Elks Dance

Kaukauna — Members of the Elks Ladies spent Wednesday night decorating the Elks clubrooms for the annual semi-formal dinner dance to be held Nov. 8.

Theme of the dance will be "Trip To The Moon," with decorations planned in keeping with the theme. Dinner will start at 7:30 p.m. and dancing will be held from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Mrs. Louis Vanevenhoven is general chairman and will be assisted by Mrs. Marcus Nigl, Mrs. John Cota, Mrs. Robert Wolf, Mrs. Gene Kronforst, Mrs. Cleon Egan, Mrs. Joseph Mazanetz, Mrs. Norbert Noie, Mrs. Jack Leddy, Mrs. August Wachel and Mrs. Paul Schommer.

Members of the ticket committee are Mrs. Robert Goetzman, Mrs. Gordon Welch and Mrs. Ralph Bayorgeon.

Exterior Walls of the $500,000 addition to the Kimberly public school are being erected as workers are taking advantage of the "Indian Summer" weather to make progress before cold sets in. The 14 classroom structure is expected to be ready for the 1959 fall term. A. H. Nimmer, Kaukauna, has the general contract.

Chili Supper Scheduled by Bethany Ladies Aid Group

Kaukauna — The Ladies Aid society of Bethany Lutheran church will sponsor a public chili luncheon and supper in the church basement Wednesday.

Serving during the noon hour will run from 11 a. m. to 1 p. m. and the evening serving hours will be from 4:30 to 8 p. m. Persons wishing to take chili out are asked to bring their own containers.

Besides chili the menu will include Spanish hamburgers, homemade pies and cakes, ice cream and beverages. All women of the parish will be expected to donate either pies or cakes and members of the sponsoring society will contact all parishioners to determine which type of pastry they intend to furnish.

Mrs. Joseph Jansen and Mrs. Oliver Maki are co-chairmen of the kitchen committee, Mrs. Arnold Fink and Mrs. Erwin Artz have charge of the dining room, Mrs. Ernest Lichtfuss, Mrs. Herman Fink and Mrs. Roy Mahn will have charge of pastry, Mrs. Lyle Seiffert and Mrs. Ervin Lopas head the hamburger committee, Mrs. Richard Muehl has charge of tickets and Mrs. Kenneth Allwardt has charge of publicity.

St. John Grade Meets Menasha Squad Friday
Little Chute — The St. John grade school football team will close out its Catholic Grade conference schedule by entertaining St. Patrick's of Menasha at 4 p. m. Friday.

The Chuteers have already clinched their second consecutive championship and have a string of eight straight victories going. Five of the wins have come this season and carry-overs from last year.

In comparing league opponents the Menasha team defeated St. Mary's Kaukauna by a 20 to 6 score while St. John tripped the Kaukauna team 24 to 0. Holy Cross Kaukauna and St. Pat's played to a scoreless tie while the Dutchmen handled Holy Cross by a 25 to 6 score.

Coaches Gene Valde Hey and Joe Verbrick put the squad through special drills this week since the team will have another game Monday afternoon. That will be a booster tilt against Irwin public school of DePere, one of the top rated grade teams in this area. Irwin went through its regular season undefeated capturing the conference title. Tickets are on sale for the game and proceeds will be used for the purchase of equipment.

17 Seniors to Play in Final Kimberly Tilt

Seek Title Share Against Menasha At 7:30 p.m. Friday

Kimberly — Seventeen seniors will be making their final appearance in a Kimberly High school uniform as the Papermakers meet powerful Menasha High at 7:30 p.m. Friday here.

The game is a "must win" for the Papermakers as they will be shooting for a share of the Mid-Eastern conference title. Should the Bluejays win they will take the solo title.

Kimberly has a 5-1 record in the league including successive wins after dropping their opening game to Neenah. Menasha is unbeaten in six loop encounters.

From the 17 seniors making their bow, nine are probable starters, according to Coach Jim Nirschl. They include backs Dan Vanden Heuvel, Dave Schimmers and Gary Kuborn and linemen Jack Lamers, Barry DeLew, Jeff Curtin, Ray Pitsch, Don Fries, and Marv Smits. Other seniors who undoubtedly will see action are Ed Bittorf, Joe Bolwerk, Bob Frassetto, Ken Schumacher, Jerry Weyenberg, Jim Van Zeeland and Jerry Van Thiel. Chuck Williams, another senior, will miss his second straight game because of a leg injury.

The Bluejays feature a swift, pounding running game while the Papermakers are aerial specialists so the expected capacity crowd is well assured of an accent on offense.

Junior quarterback Don Hearden has a pair of fine targets in 6 foot 4 inch Jack Lamers and 6-5 Darrell Jansen at the ends. In addition he fires to halfbacks Kuborn and Schimmers on occasion.

199-569 Lead Doubles Loop
Kaukauna — Al Schumann slammed a 569 set and Evelyn Taylor hit a 199 game to set the individual pace in the Saturday Night Mixed Doubles league at S and B alleys.

Team honors went to Taylor's with a 415 game and a 1-139 series. Taylor's won two games while Watson's split a 3-game set to have the two deadlock for the league lead with 81-31 records. Yingling's is one-half game off the pace. Pearl Watson hit a 190 game for the only other honor count.

Two Catholic Schools Close for Conferences
Kaukauna — Catholic grade schools in Kaukauna are closed Thursday and Friday this week to permit parents to pick up report cards from teachers.

Parents have been assigned times to appear and conferences held when deemed necessary. Classes will resume on schedule Monday.

Youth Center Open
Little Chute — The St. John High school Youth Center will be open for regular activities Friday evening, directors have announced.

VFW to Sponsor Teenage Dance This Evening

Kaukauna — Members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars will sponsor a Halloween dance for teenagers beginning at 8 o'clock this evening at the VFW hall.

The hall will be appropriately decorated and special prizes will be awarded in the course of the evening. Members of the VFW post and their wives will be on hand to supervise. The affair is open to teenagers from the eighth grade through high school age.

Music will be furnished by records and refreshments will be available. Mark Hietpas heads the dance committee in charge.

Conferences Set Education Week At Grade Schools

Kaukauna — National education week will be observed in the two public grade schools with conferences between parents and teachers. Open house at the remodeled schools and in the new additions will be held at the conclusion of construction work.

Conferences at Park school will be Nov. 12 with students excused from classes on that day, according to Clifford Hodgins, principal. Nicolet conferences with no classes will be Nov. 13, according to Miss Mary Landreman, principal. Students will bring home slips notifying parents of time to attend.

Rural Kaukauna Man Fined for Speeding

Little Chute — Herbert F. Vandenberg, 48, route 2, Kaukauna, was found guilty of speeding when arraigned before Anton Jansen, justice of the peace, Tuesday and was ordered to pay $10 and costs.

Vandenberg was arrested by Little Chute police Saturday and will have three points charged against his record toward revocation of his driver's license.

First Phase of Scout Canvass Now Ended

Chairman to Report Progress of Fund Drive on Nov. 5

Kaukauna — One phase of the Boy Scout finance campaign in the city has been completed while the other has progressed nicely and is at the halfway point, according to Neil J. McCarty, general chairman.

The completed campaign involves solicitations from major contributors and contacting of all clubs and organizations in Kaukauna. Letters were sent to the former group by Joseph C. McCarty, head of the special gifts committee, and the latter groups have been contacted by T. H. Boebel, chairman of the clubs and organizations unit.

The response to the letter campaign has been excellent to date with more arriving each day. Donations from clubs are staggered since club approval at a general meeting is required before contributions are mailed.

Ward co-captains are requested to check with workers periodically to ascertain how the house to house campaign is progressing. The same is true of the solicitations in the business districts.

The chairman thanked those who had already contributed and expressed hope residents would greet workers courteously and give generously. Persons not contacted by workers but wishing to donate are asked to mail contributions directly to Neil J. McCarty. Names and addresses should be enclosed to permit the chairman to issue receipts since contributions are tax deductible. McCarty will make his initial report to the executive board of valley council Nov. 5.

Awards Issued to Cub Pack 20 on Visitor's Night

Kaukauna — Award presentations highlighted a visitor's night meeting of Cub Pack 20 at the Veterans of Foreign Wars hall as the unit attempted to interest other boys and parents in the Scouting movement.

Visitors saw each of the dens put on a skit in keeping with the theme, "American Folklore," and took part in community singing.

A meeting of the pack committee has been called for 8 p. m. Wednesday at the Robert DeCoster residence, 214 Diederich street.

Jerry Berken Hits 244 High At Little Chute

Little Chute — Jerry Berken slammed a 244 singleton and 551 series for the individual high counts in the Bird Couples league at the Recreation alleys.

Top score for the women was a 191 game by Vi Reynbeau.

The Crows are in first place with a 9-3 record while the Canaries and Larks are tied for second with 8-4 marks.

Ed Muel posted a 580 series for the effort in the American Legion league at the Recreation lanes.

Mill's Barbershop preserved its hold on first place with a 14-7 record and Hillside Bar is second, two and a half games off the pace.

Other top series included Don Ourada, 557; Bob Phelan, 558, and Richard Ristau, 550.

To Your Good Health

Don't Fret Over Physical Defects, Advises Dr. Molner

By Joseph G. Molner, M. D.

There are times when you have to speak up like a Dutch uncle and I think today is one of them. Here's the letter that makes me so avuncular:

"Dear Dr. Molner: I am in good health but my problem was caused when as a baby I did not receive necessary Vitamin D which resulted in a defective sternum (breast bone). I am in my early 30s, 5 feet, 7 inches tall, weigh 128, have a good complexion and am considered attractive.

"Friends of course do not know of my problem as I dress so it is not evident. But they cannot understand why I have not married. I have had several proposals. I did not accept because of the above problem. What should I do to lead a normal life? That is, marry and have a family? — Miss K.N."

In a word, the way to have a happy, normal life under such circumstances, is to get married and have a family. I gather that the defective sternum is probably a slight case of pigeon breast, in which the breast bone protrudes. Or a depression-called funnel breast. There are, of course, other odd shapes that can be caused by rickets in infancy.

Anyway, the chest cage is somewhat out of shape. Well if she can disguise this by dressing so it is not evident, then it isn't extreme enough to worry about. There are hundreds of possible physical defects. Beak noses and pug noses, floppy ears, big feet, flat feet, flat noses, fallen arches, flat chests, flat heads, long legs, short legs, and take your choice.

K.N. must have personality and charm and a nice disposition, or she wouldn't have had those proposals. She has only one thing agin' her. She frets about a physical deformity that nobody else worries about.

Too Self-Conscious

That's the worst thing about physical defects. We become too self-conscious about 'em. We analyze ourselves, and find a defect, and worry about it. But do we see other defects, just as great, in others? No!

There are two kinds of people: Those who criticize themselves, and those who criticize others. K.N. is one of the former. If she spent as much time picking flaws in other people as she does in herself, she couldn't find anyone worth marrying. Instead, she picks flaws in herself, and thinks she isn't worth marrying.

K.N., my girl, say "yes" to the next man who proposes, if only he has one or two human defects. A few defects make us human.

(P.S.: A defective sternum isn't hereditary, either. Quit fussing over your particular fault. Everybody has faults. Love people for what they are, and don't sell 'em short for small defects. This applies to you, as well as to everyone else.)

Reformatory Asks for More Dorm Space

Inmates Increasing; Building Engineer Studies Project

Post-Crescent News Service
Green Bay — A building engineer from the state department of public welfare was at the Wisconsin State reformatory Wednesday at the institution's request to determine whether more new dormitory space can be provided to accommodate the rapidly increasing inmate body.

The move was announced by Reformatory Supt. M. A. Skaff as the institution population stood at 918, after an all-time peak of 921 inmates Saturday. Last year at this time the population figure had not approached the 800 mark.

The reformatory's inquiring about an additional dormitory comes as its inmates, under direction of trade supervisors of the welfare department, are in the early stages of remodeling a portion of the trades building into a 65-man dormitory. The quarters which are subject of the latest proposal would accommodate about the same number of men.

Would Be Saving

The third dormitory section would replace the inmate tail-or shop which would be relocated elsewhere in the institution.

Skaff explained he seeks to establish the additional dormitory now because it could be accomplished at a saving to the state if work performed by inmates and materials purchased were done in connection with remodeling presently underway. Inmate labor is being used under the supervision of an authorized carpenter and plumber, both provided by the state public welfare department.

Reformatory officials have been informed they can expect no decrease in inmates for at least several years when the state's new home for boys and medium security prison can be established.

They are an English-mathematics teacher on the high school level and a man for industrial superintendent in the reformatory's auto shop.

Works Board Protests Story About South Side Swim Pool

The board of public works Wednesday protested a Post-Crescent story on its special meeting at Wisconsin Rapids Monday over a possible swimming pool site.

Board members were alarmed over the effect the story might have on Consolidated Water Power and Paper company's offer to donate Interlake park as a site.

Company officials, they explained, placed a blackout on news of the meeting and the company's intent.

Board members had pledged to honor the agreement. And, the next day's issue of the Post-Crescent "carried all the details." This could cost the city a $40,000 piece of land, it was said.

James C. Newcomb, Post-Crescent city hall reporter, was questioned over an extended period and refused to reveal the source of his information.

A call to Consolidated officials found the company denying the facts were revealed by anyone connected with the company.

Mayor Mitchell reported he had told Newcomb of the blackout Tuesday morning when Newcomb inquired of the meeting. He said he had not told Newcomb any details.

County Port Air Service Seen Feb. 1

North Central Says CAB Certificate Now Forecast in December

Current information indicates North Central Airlines may begin scheduled air passenger service at Outagamie county airport on Feb. 1.

William Pifer, chairman of the chamber of commerce's airport committee, said today he has been told of the outlook by a spokesman for North Central.

North Central has been told, he said, that the civil aeronautics board in Washington expects to hand down certificates for air service in the so-called "seven states case" sometime in early December.

Four Flights

The certificate requires, North Central has explained, the lapse of 60 days before air service can be instituted by the airline.

North Central, according to earlier CAB announcements, will furnish four flights daily to the county port on a scheduled Minneapolis-to-Chicago run. There would be two flights each way daily.

A new fence and blackout for the area between the landing strip and the hangars, part of an improvement project, at the port, are complete. Start of construction of a temporary terminal is scheduled next week.

Taxpayers May Seek Special Meeting With Board of Education

A special meeting with the joint city board of education may be sought by Appleton Taxpayers association.

H. O. Barney, association projects committee chairman, said the association originally intended to present its suggestion for a flat $100,000 cut in the school budget at the next board meeting.

However, the next board meeting is Nov. 10, too late for any cuts which might result from talks to be carried in the legal advertisement of the budget hearing, Barney explained.

Youth Fined for Reckless Driving

Russell G. Schreiber today was fined $300 for reckless driving and $25 for driving on the wrong side of the road. With court costs, Schreiber paid a total of $325.

Schreiber was charged after he stopped suddenly while being chased by County Policeman Calvin Spice on Sept. 8 on N. Richmond street. Spice had followed Schreiber from Highway 41 into Appleton at a high rate of speed,

The convictions and accident will cost Schreiber 12 points against his driving record, enough for revocation by the state motor vehicle commissioner.

Industrial Division

Members of the chamber of commerce's industrial division election committee will meet at 4 p. m. Wednesday at the chamber office to count ballots in the special election of a board of directors. Deadline for mail ballots was Tuesday.

Election Has Many Economic Overtones

Vote May Decide If U. S. Is Headed For Big Depression

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington — Next Tuesday's election of a new congress is the most important in a half-century.

On the outcome depends whether America, after a brief period of boom, will gradually head into a depression perhaps worse than anything experienced in the 1930's.

Confidence — the basic influence in business expansion and especially in the building of new plants — may be, temporarily at least, shattered, when the election result is finally tabulated, if it turns out that a Democratic landslide in the north has taken place. Will there be a scramble to build plants quickly under present prices, for fear that runaway costs will follow in the next year or so as inflation picks up more and more momentum? Or will business adopt a "wait and see" attitude?

If the even-odd battle between the Republican party and the Democratic party in the north in recent years shows this time a sharp decline of Republican strength and the rise to supremacy of the radical faction of the Democratic party, many businessmen will wonder what the long-range trend is going to be — higher and higher wages with higher and higher prices and then a crash as a buyers' strike ensues?

Trust of Conservatives

For the 13 years since World War II, the businessmen of the country have had faith in the effectiveness of the coalition of conservative Democrats of the south with the conservative Republicans from the north in preventing unsound legislation. In both parties in congress the conservative representation will be diminished — if the advance surveys are borne out.

As the voters go to the polls this time and elect Democratic candidates for congress, they have been told very little about the conservative versus radical problem and what it means to them as individuals in the future. Millions of voters with fixed pensions — in states like California — are apparently not aware of the dangers to them in the coming decline of the dollar's purchasing power when the radicals take command.

Certainly very little has been told the voter about how the new bosses of the Democratic party in the north — the leaders of the labor unions who have put up most of the money for the Democrats in the present campaign — can be expected to dictate to the newly elected Democrats the course of economic legislation.

Businessmen who know the facts of life in politics are worried. They see a congress dominated by labor-union influences. If, even after the revelations about racketeering in unions, the electorate still votes against the "right to work" principle and in favor of labor-union monopolies, there will be added discouragement throughout the business community.

Union Control Pending
A healthy economy would, of course, absorb the unemployed by creating more and more new jobs. But a labor-union-controlled economy, with prices fixed by the unions themselves at levels that the buyer must ultimately resist, is not going to bring more employment. It will mean less employment and also less and less profits for the corporations out of which the government can collect tax revenues.

The real issue in the current campaign is between a sound conservatism and an irresponsible radicalism. Many Republicans called "modern" have been flirting with the radical side for the last three years, and some have become disillusioned. This is natural because the radical Republican has found scant support among the Democratic voters, and hence little net gain for his so-called "modern Republicanism."

It is not too soon for the Republican party to begin to mobilize and harmonize all its factions for the big battle of 1960. For the 1958 election results will show the effects of the internal struggle between conservatism and radicalism inside the Republican party. Sometimes a defeat provides the sinews for a subsequent victory.

Terrors Rise To Third in Total Offense

Complete Most Passes in FRVC; Bangert Tops Rushers

A strong performance against Sheboygan Central (a 17-0 victory) last Saturday has enabled Appleton's grid Terrors to take third place in total offense in the Fox River Valley conference.

Fond du Lac Plays At Oshkosh Tonight

The final round of Fox River Valley conference play begins tonight with the Fond du Lac-at-Oshkosh game. The once-beaten Cardinals need a victory to retain a chance for a share of the championship.

1,260 yards in six games—the best FRVC production outside of that of the two Green Bay powers.

Most Completions AHS is the passingest team in the circuit, latest official FRVC statistics prepared by Fond du Lac's Bill Draves, indicate. The Terrors have thrown more passes than anyone else (82) and have completed more than any other team (30). In completion per-

MSU Has Reshuffled Lineup

East Lansing, Mich. — Michigan State should be the underdog, for the first time in four years, in the football game with Wisconsin here Saturday.

Only Advantages Those were about the only State advantages anyone can see. The talk about Michigan State depth was shattered once and for all as a myth as far as this year is concerned in the Illinois game.

Packer Defense Faces Big Test Against Colts

Bays Have Allowed 72 Points in Last Two Contests

BY ART DALEY Post-Crescent News Service Green Bay — The Packers gave up 72 points in the last two games. That's a shame! Green Bay's defense isn't that bad, you say? But it happened, the Redskins getting 37 in Washington Oct. 19 and the Philadelphia Eagles scoring 35 (21 in the last quarter) here last Sunday.

Worse yet, the Redskins and Eagles aren't necessarily high-scoring teams. Both scored less than the Packers who counted 109 in five games—the Eagles with 103, Redskins 95.

Hottest Scorers And that reminds us of two items: (1) The Packers play the Colts in Baltimore Sunday and (2) those Colts happen to be the hottest and highest scoring team in the league, with 178 points.

Horror! Maybe we should stay home? There is this consolation: the Packers held the Baltimore Colts to their lowest total—24—in their first meeting in Milwaukee Oct. 12. In their other four games, the Colts scored 28 and 40 on the Lions, 51 on the Bears and 35 on the Redskins.

Feather in Hat That 24 - point total is a feather in the straws of the Packer defense. Actually, the defense permitted only 14 marks. Three came on a fast whistle when quarterback John Unitas fumbled and the Packers recovered. The officials "saved" Unitas and the Colts tied the game, 17-17, on the next play. Seven came on Andy Nelson's 54-yard interception return of a Bart Starr pass for the winning touchdown. That was the last good, tough defensive game (four full quarters in the same afternoon) played by the Packers. The Redskin and Eagle games followed.

The Bay defense was "blah" in Washington and tough for the first three frames vs. Philly. The Bay defense was "blah" in Washington and tough for the first three frames vs. Philadelphia. In those two games, the Packers permitted 410 yards rushing and 447 yards rushing, respectively—a total of 857 stripes.

Not a Loss Also, in those two games, the two enemy quarterbacks, Eddie LeBaron and Norm Van Brocklin, were not dumped for a single yard loss attempting to pass. Here's how (yardage-wise) such stalwarts as Len Ford, Jim Temp, Note Borden, J. D. Kimmel and Dave Hanner — plus the linebackers — pitched enemy quarterbacks on pass attempts: Chicago Bears 11 yards, Detroit 5, Baltimore 13, Washington 0, Philadelphia 0. While strategy sometimes calls for no major or particular rush on the passer, the figures indicate little overall success in dirtying the uniforms of Ed Brown, Tobin Rote, Bobby Lane, Unitas, LeBaron and Van Brocklin. Those QBs never had it so good! The Colts are pretty good at mangling enemy QBs. Here are the yardage—lost figures

Warriors Prepare Same Treatment for Maher That They Gave Bass

Fast Detroit Halfback Has Gained Nearly Half His Team's Yardage

Milwaukee — Riding the crest of its upset victory over the College of the Pacific, the Marquette football team is breathing deep and making the same plans for Detroit. The Warriors defeated the West coast squad by hooking a Bass named Dick, nearly Woods, former tackle and for the whole offensive show for the California team. The Titans of Detroit are similarly halfback, also has developed constituted, with Bruce Maher into a running threat, working their bread-and - butter ball well on the slants and threading his way through the line.

Maher, who owns nearly half the yardage gathered by the Detroit squad, ranks fifteenth in the nation in rushing. The swift halfback has carried 92 times for 395 yards and a 4.3 average. He's caught 13 passes for 281 yards and three of his five touchdowns.

And Detroit has a passing attack shaped around Maher and Lou Faoro who does most of the team's throwing. The veteran Faoro has good targets in his backs and ends and has completed 26 of 54 passes for 450 yards and five touchdowns.

Detroit will have a decided weight advantage in its line, built around tackle John Dingens and Grady Alderman who go 215 and 225, respectively. The guards are Emerson Dromgold, 218, and Dick Kennedy, 197. Center Ernie Fritsch weighs in at 225.

The Warriors will start with a backfield which includes quarterback Pete Hall who opened up with a passing

Hawks Take Lead As Pettit Hits 37

By the Associated Press Bob Pettit still is the same Bob Pettit of last season. For the St. Louis Hawks that is good news. For their rivals in the National Basketball association, it is bad.

Pettit tallied 37 points Wednesday night to run his total for three games to 91 as the Hawks defeated the Minneapolis Lakers, 112-100, and took over first place in the Western division. Last season Pettit was the league's third ranking scorer with a game average of 24.8 points.

NOTES and NOTIONS

Guessing Scoreboard

LAST WEEK			SEASON'S TOTAL
Hits	Misses	Pct.	Hits	Misses	Pct.
17	5	77.3	101	38	72.4

The time has come to fold my football forecasting tent for the year. The results of this week's games (many of them real toughies) will determine whether I'll have to steal quietly away.

Parilli Colts over Packers—Baltimore doesn't have anywhere near the superiority the season records suggest (5-0 vs. 1-3-1) but it does have more breakaway threats and it does have its howling home crowd. But, if "Babe" Parilli has another hot day, we could see an encore of last year's 24-21 stunner.

Wisconsin over Michigan State—That 7-7 tie with Ohio State restored whatever Badger confidence was lost in the Oct. 18 second half against Iowa. The UW also has a little settling up to do—having been outscored, 81 to 7, in three consecutive losses to MSU.

Detroit over Marquette—They look about even on paper, but I'll cast a reticent vote for the Titans on the theory that the Warriors may find it tough to be "up" again after a supreme effort last weekend.

Knox over Lawrence—The Siwashers have a slightly better record to date, the home field and the painful memory of a 46-0 hammering at the hands of the Vikes last year.

Menasha over Kimberly—Bring together two solid teams with good-sized winning streaks and put up a championship as the prize—and an outstanding game is all but inevitable. The Jays' defense will be put to the ultimate test by the Papermakers' strong 2-pronged attack, but it has held up to date (four shutouts in six games) and we believe it will decide a tight game. Menasha has done better than Kimberly against two of their three strongest common foes (Neenah, Kaukauna, Clintonville).

Appleton over Manitowoc — The speed of Mike Franzke and the passing of John Nussbaum will keep the Ships in hot water.

Neenah over Kaukauna—The high-scoring Rockets may have trouble hitting their 27.3-point average against a good Ghost defense but they have the power to win it.

Clintonville over Shawano—The Truckers will cap an excellent comeback campaign impressively.

Two Rivers over New London—The Bulldogs have a fighting chance to end their luckless season on a light note, but the Raiders rate a slim edge on the basis of a little better statistical record and the home field.

St. John over Premontre—A genuinely thorny task, thus, but the unbeaten Dutchmen have the talent and the clutch-playing ability to prevail in what could be a socko prep grid show.

St. Mary over Marinette—The Zephyrs of Coach Vince Ste. Marie will move into a co-championship with an emphatic "curtain" performance.

Eastern Wisconsin—Chilton over Kiel, Fox Valley Lutheran over Brillion.

Richardson, Olmedo 1-2 Seeds in Japan Tokyo — Japan expects U. S. Davis Cuppers Ham Richardson and Alex Olmedo to win the men's singles and doubles in the All-Japan Tennis championship at Osaka Nov. 1-8. Richardson is seeded No. 1 and Olmedo No. 2. Experts predict they will finish in that order.

Ron Newhouse Keeps Knights in Limelight

His Passes Gain 1,054 Yards; Coenen Ranks Well Up Among Receivers

St. Norbert is enjoying nowhere near the success it had last year when it went unbeaten, but the passing of Freedom's Ron Newhouse is keeping the Green Knights in the national grid picture. Newhouse, a 6-2, 195-pound junior, has led the nation's small college passers virtually all season. His current imposing record is 81 completions in 165 attempts for 1,054 yards and seven touchdowns.

Risk Win Streak Newhouse is one of several important Fox Cities area cogs in the Green Knight machine. Among the others are Appleton's end Jim Coenen and Kaukauna tackle Les Schultz.

This trio and the rest of the Knights will appear in Minahan stadium Saturday night against Mankato. St. Norbert, which has a 2-5 record, will be risking its 12-game home winning streak.

Despite rainy conditions last Saturday, Newhouse completed nine of 20 passes at Northern Michigan. Two of them went to end Dennis Penza — the top small-college receiver in latest NCAA statistics — and four went to Coenen (who ranked eighth on the most recently-issued national list.) The top effort by the rifle-armed Newhouse came in a

Les Schultz

Green Knight defeat (21-20 against Augustana) earlier this season. Ron fired 26 times and made connections on 19 of them for 256 yards. It prompted Coach Mel Nicks to call it "the greatest game I have ever seen a quarterback have."

Newhouse and Coenen rank 1-2 in St. Norbert scoring with 24 and 22 points, respectively. Newhouse, who also does well in basketball, baseball.

Hackbart Tops Nation in Punt Returns

Rutgers' Austin Takes Scoring Lead With 66 Points

By The Associated Press
Three new individual offense leaders bobbed up in major college football this week, all taking over with spectacular performances.

Sonny Randle of Virginia nabbed nine tosses last week and raised his season total to 32, the most any player has made in six games since 1952. This despite the fact Virginia's ace passer, Reece Whitely, has been sidelined with injuries the past two weeks.

Bill Austin, Rutgers' man of all work, scored three times against Lehigh last Saturday, bringing his total to 66 points. He now has scored more touchdowns in five games than any major college player in recorded history — 10. Howard Cook of Colorado is in second place with 53 points, including eight touchdowns.

Dale Hackbart of Wisconsin took over the punt-return lead with a 64-yard touchdown gallop which blotted Ohio State's perfect record with a tie.

Only Georgia's Bob Walden, with a 47.4-yard punting average; Drake's Tom Newell, with 278 yards on kickoff returns, and Don Black, New Mexico's spectacular pass catcher who has averaged four points for every catch, retained their leads in their respective departments last week.

Kreitting Leads
Bill Kreitting of Illinois, who has covered 426 yards on only 13 pass receptions for a 32.8-yard average, is in a class by himself in that department.

By throwing for two touchdowns, in addition to scoring three himself, Austin brought his touchdown-responsibility total to 17 in five games.

Hackbart leads in punt returns with 167 yards on four runs.

Rory Calhoun Beats Szuzina

Dissatisfied With Showing Despite Easy Triumph

Rochester, N.Y. — "This guy is shorter than most. He made it tough for me."

Thus did Rory Calhoun, high ranking middleweight, concede he hadn't looked as sharp as he might Wednesday night in winning a unanimous 10-round decision over Germany's Franz Szuzina in their televised fight.

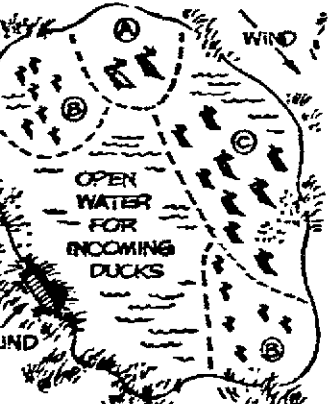

All three officials made the 24-year old minister's son from White Plains, N.Y. the winner by a wide margin, but Calhoun wasn't satisfied with his performance.

Referee Joe Palmer, who took the seventh round from Rory because of low blows, scored it 7-2. Judge Harold McGrath had Calhoun winning 9-1 and Judge Charles di Salva 8-2.

Calhoun spent most of the evening slamming away at long range, but he also was able to contain Szuzina's usually strong body attack in the clinches.

'A Real Pro'

Ferguson's Comeback Has Helped Packers

Green Bay — (U) — Green Bay's hammering fullback, Howie Ferguson, has always played football because of great desire but this year he's playing on sound legs and it makes a difference.

"He's a real pro," said Ray McLean, coach of the National Football league club. "He's got guts, that 'Fergy.' Why, he'd bite the opposition for more yardage."

Ferguson would like to play the rest of his life and plans to stay in the game until nobody will have him.

"Have To Cut Me"
"They'll have to cut me to get rid of me," he said. "I'll play as long as I can."

His comeback has been good medicine for the Packers, both for the spirit and the statistics. He not only wants to win, he wants to annihilate the opposition.

As for his contribution this season, he's carried the ball 53 times in five games for 254 yards and has caught 12 passes for 121 yards. Some of his runs have been short, jolting kind. Others have been longer, giving the fans a chance to see that he plows into tacklers, running over them or brushing them aside while not losing stride or straightening up.

His showing is all the more impressive because last year he was considered finished, the victim of an ailing left knee that stopped a great runner where tacklers couldn't.

"Liz" Advised
Ferguson was advised by his former coach, "Liz" Blackburn, to see Dr. Donald O'Donoghue, the Oklahoma specialist who operated on the Milwaukee Braves' Bill Bruton.

With nothing to lose, Ferguson submitted to surgery last January.

"I was in a cast six weeks,"

Canadiens Win, 5-0, Lead by 7 Points

By The Associated Press
The Montreal Canadiens rapidly are making a runaway of the National Hockey league pennant race.

Unlike a year ago when the Canadiens got off to a slow start, the league and Stanley cup champions have chalked up seven victories and two ties in 11 games this season. They hold a 7-point margin over the Boston Bruins and New York Rangers, deadlocked for second place.

The Canadiens picked up two points Wednesday night by shutting out the Toronto Maple Leafs, 5-0, while the Bruins and Rangers played to a 2-2 standoff for their third and 134 passing for a 236-yard total.

Badgers Will Be Favored Over MSU

Despite the 16-0 blanking, Coach "Duffy" Daugherty said he felt better about the game than after the loss to Purdue the previous week.

"I think we're getting better," he said.

The last previous time the Spartans had been shut out was in the 6-0 defeat by Wisconsin in 1954.

Since that time, Michigan State has had pretty much its own way with the Badgers, winning, 27-0, in 1955, 33-0, in 1956 and, 21-7, last year.

But it was noted last year that Wisconsin had a great sophomore club and trouble was predicted for this season.

Michigan State just hasn't got the material this year.

An Idle Threat
The Spartan passing game has been only an idle threat. Recent opponents have been taking advantage of this by jamming up the line — using nine men at most times — to stop any running game.

Against Purdue, State made only 38 yards rushing. It picked up a bit with 162 yards against Illinois but the Spartans still couldn't push across a score.

Greg Montgomery, the junior halfback, is slated to start against Wisconsin. Mike Panitch, the senior starter at signal-caller, was out with a twisted ankle last week but will be back in a secondary role this Saturday.

Left half Dean Look was the only effective runner against Illinois, gaining more than half the MSU total with his 91 yards rushing. Right half Art Johnson has been ailing and junior and sophomore stand-ins haven't been able to produce. Fullback also has been a weak spot.

About the only seniors performing up to par this year have been end Sammy Williams, a standout on defense, and guard Ellison Kelly, a hard-hitter in the line despite nagging injuries.

Michigan State will be a little better off physically this week. The sophomores and juniors forced into key positions have some game seasoning as starters after the Illinois game.

If the team starts working as a unit, and if one of the quarterbacks starts hitting his receivers, the Spartans could make the game very interesting.

Newhouse Keeps Knights In Spotlight

Coenen, a 6-foot-200-pound end, has hauled in 23 passes for 271 yards and three touchdowns.

Schultz is a 280-pound sophomore, who is the first replacement for either starting tackle.

Bob Helein, 6-3 junior from Appleton, is a reserve end who has appeared in several games.

Among the Fox Cities area freshmen on the Knight team are "Chuck" Kunitz, Dick King and Bob Joyce, of Appleton; Gene Gries, Neenah; and Bill Campbell, Kaukauna.

Roberts Cited For Comeback

Beats Out Friend And Bob Thomson For NL Award

Savannah, Ga. — (U) — "I felt better and was throwing better."

That's how Robin Roberts summarized his 1958 pitching record of 17 victories and 14 losses that won him the "Comeback Player of the Year" title in the National league.

Roberts got 50 of the 98 votes by members of the Baseball Writers Association of America in the annual Associated Press poll. Bob Friend of Pittsburgh got 21 votes and Bobby Thomson of Chicago 13.

The 32-year-old Philadelphia hurler referred to his dismal 10-22 record for 1957 and said he "definitely made me a candidate for the comeback honor, didn't it?"

The strapping right-hander did not make any excuses after that fiasco. "I just got clobbered. That is all," he said.

But Roberts, in Savannah to look after his seafood packing and restaurant business, had a ready reason for his improvement.

Roberts declared, "I can tell you one thing. I'm looking forward to next season and I personally hope to do better. I feel fine and I suppose this feeling comes from winning. It makes a lot of difference the way you feel when you're out there winning."

Schanen Rolls 843—Nation's Best of '58-9

Milwaukee — (U) — Milwaukee's Ray Schanen blasted an 843 Tuesday night for the nation's highest bowling score this season and sixteenth highest of all time.

He rolled games of 299, 290 and 254 bowling with the Wisconsin Ice team in the Greater All-Star league.

The previous high this season was 825 by Dick Selgo of Fort Clinton, Ohio. The all-time state high is 854 by Frank Benkovic, Milwaukee while the national record is 886 by Ollie Brandt of Lockport, N.Y. Both Benkovic and Brandt set their marks in 1939.

Jim Brown Scorns Statistics, Wants to Play Without Error

BY ROBERT L. SHAFFER

Cleveland — (U) — "That was Jim Brown!"

The announcer's voice boomed over the public address system, but most of the people in the vast stadium knew without being told. They had watched the opposing team in a huddle moving down the field—the wrong way—and at the center of the huddle was Cleveland's fullback Jim Brown.

But there is more than bulldozing behind Brown's wholesale attack on National Football league statistical records.

Good Sprinters
He is fast, one of the best sprinters on the squad. Give him a little space and he's off.

What makes Jim Brown go? The 6-foot-2, 228-pound former Syracuse star scorns statistics which many cite when they predict he will become one of the greatest stars of professional football. What gives him the greatest satisfaction is not the long touchdown run but "knowing that I played a good game."

Doesn't Mean Anything
Brown in five games has averaged 163 yards per game—more than twice his average last year as a freshman when he led the league in total yards gained rushing. With seven more games to go, he seems to be a cinch—barring injury—to better the record of 1,146 yards Steve Van Buren of Philadelphia set in 1949.

"These things (statistics) don't count to the football player," Brown said. "I could run 150 yards and look good on Sunday, but that doesn't mean anything if I come in here on Wednesday and hear him (Coach Paul Brown) saying I missed this assignment or that."

"The thing that makes you proud," he continued, "is knowing you did everything right, that you played a whole game without making more than one or two mistakes."

Coach Brown calls Jim the "best draft choice we ever made." Paul points to Jim's muscular physique as part of the answer to the mystery of the fullback's spectacular success.

Jim has "such a terrific high structure that he hurts tacklers," Paul told one sports writer.

Manitowoc—the Terrors' final opponent here Saturday—has done its best work on defense. The Ships rank third in total defense, trailing only East and West.

East and West—who clash Saturday—divide most of the team honors. Individually, East's Don Bangert leads both in rushing (608 yards) and in scoring (42 points).

Cardinals Capture 4th In Five Japan Starts

Nagoya, Japan —(AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals pounded four Japanese pitchers for 11 hits, including two home runs, to crush the Japan All-Stars, 7-2, today. It was the Cards' fourth win in five games played thus far in their 16-game tour of Japan.

Right-hander Larry Jackson, the Redbirds' winning pitcher, yielded only five well-spaced hits in hurling seven scoreless innings.

Battered Irish '11' Meets Navy Next

It Begins to Look as Though Brennan Were Right in Size-Up

South Bend, Ind.—(AP)—May be Coach Terry Brennan of Notre Dame's football team should have taken at his word when he said before the season "we're not as good as everybody thinks we are."

The battered Irish go against Navy at Baltimore Saturday with a 3-2 record. Pegged by many in pre-season reckonings as the team to beat, the Irish now are not even among the top 20 in the AP weekly poll.

Even in victory, Notre Dame has had to fuss furiously. It opened with an 18-0 verdict over weak Indiana, but led only 6-0 until the final seven minutes. The Irish had a close call over Southern Methodist, 14-6, and came from behind to vanquish Duke, 9-7.

Finish Courageously
Army defeated Notre Dame, 14-2, but the Irish were mauled by Pete Dawkins and Bob Anderson more than the score indicated. Last Saturday the Irish finished courageously, but still lost to Purdue, 29-22.

Before the season opened, Brennan observed: "We are slow up front. Our depth is not a solid 2-deep. And, finally, we have to have a lot of breaks, escaping injury and getting the right bounce of the ball."

Certainly they have not escaped injury. Fullback Nick dan Pietrosante, guard El Ecuier, center Bob Scholtz, halfback Parnassus announced the signing of the fighters Wednesday and guard Jim nesday.

for their five games: Lions 54, Bears 42, Packers 21, Lions 7 and Redskins 30. It is interesting to note that the low Lion figure was the game the Lions got beat the worst, 40-14. And most of that 21 yards on the Bays was tacked up in the first few minutes—a hat tip-per for their offensive line.

More Tackling
McLean called for more tackling practice after Wednesday's lively workout—a re-run of the program a week ago.

Wednesday's tackling had a touch of humor and an unexpected end. Max McGee, the offensive end who may be called on to tackle an enemy because he's on the punting team (as the punter), had an experience that brought the house down. McGee took a high shot at the tackling dummy and somehow bumped it wrong, without getting a good grip. That dummy (?) snarled back and swatted Max a good one—much to the delight of his teammates.

A few moments later Jim Temp gave the dummy such a fierce sock that the mechanism that gives it spring-back power went out of kilter. McLean had to call it off for lack of a mechanic.

Baseball Oddities Gil Hodges Popped Out Into His Own Glove Last Season

BY BEN OLAN

New York —(AP)—When can a batter hit a pop fly into his own glove for an out? The answer: When he lends his glove to a fielder on the opposing team. It happened last May 30 when Gil Hodges of Los Angeles loaned his glove to rival first baseman Bobby Adams of Chicago.

Adams never had played the position before and since both Cub first basemen, Dale Long and Paul Smith, were left-handed, Bobby had to borrow Hodges' mitt. In the fourth inning, Adam used Hodges' glove to catch Gil's infield fly.

There were many other odd happenings in organized baseball during the 1958 season.

Rushes Onto Field
Danny Murtaugh, Pittsburgh manager, rushed onto the field toward Umpire Jocko Conlan. Many fans wondered about the sudden action because the Pirates were leading, 14-4, in the seventh inning.

Murtaugh had a ready answer. "I really didn't have anything to protest about. Jocko wanted to know what was wrong. Nothing, I told him. This game is being televised back to Chester (Pa.) and I wanted my wife and kids to get a look at me." Danny lives in Chester.

Vikes to Bid For 1st Win at Knox Saturday

But the 1958 Vikings will exult over even a 1-point win. If Lady Luck is kind to the talent-rich Vikings, Lawrence will go into Saturday's game in pretty good physical condition. Wingback Jim Leatham will not play. But, quarterback Jim Schulze, around whom the offense revolves when Lawrence uses the T or spread formations, will see action after missing all but one play in last weekend's 15-0 loss to Cornell.

How much Schulze is available will likely dictate the type of attack Lawrence employs.

Used Single Wing
With him out of the lineup Co a c h Bernie Heselton's worthies relied almost entirely on single-wing stuff against Cornell. Co-Captain Dave Mulford was doing some of his best running of the year, piling up 83 yards in 23 plays, and fullback Gary Scovel totaled 82 yards in 22 tries.

Mulford had a sensational day in last year's Knox game, gaining 164 yards on 23 carries for a 7.1 yards-per-carry record. He scored four touchdowns, on runs of 14, 12, 10 and eight yards.

Offense, or lack of it, has Sunday, but it'll probably be in a new role.

Gifford, his right knee heavily taped, participated in the Giants' workout Wednesday and according to Coach Jim Lee Howell will see limited action, possibly at quarterback.

New York —(AP)—Frank Gifford, New York Giants' gifted back, likely will be Gifford suffered torn knee against the Cleveland Browns Chicago Cardinals.

been Lawrence's major problem this season. The Vikings' points-allowed average of 24.6 isn't too much worse than that of four other clubs in the Midwest conference, including Knox (20-4).

6 Per Game
But, the Vikes have averaged just six points per tilt on offense, every other club in the league is averaging about two TDs per game or better. Knox's mark is 15.8.

Knox has lost to two of the clubs that have beaten Lawrence. Cornell smashed the Siwashers, 27-0, and Lawrence 15-0. Coe tripped Knox, 22-16, and Lawrence 14-8. Knox also lost to St. Olaf, 29-21. The Siwashers defeated Monmouth, 30-12, and tied Grinnell, 12-12. (Grinnell dumped the Vikes, 25-8).

Knox has three of the league's top 20 scorers. Senior Halfback Junior Brown is eleventh with 21 points, senior end Lanny Kiest tied for twelfth with 20 points and junior halfback Mike Mortin is tied for eighteenth with 14 points.

Regular Knox quarterback Mike Kollen has been sidelined with a broken jaw. Jack Gorby, a 160 - pound sophomore who completed eight of ten passes against Grinnell, will replace Kollen for Saturday's Dad's Day game.

Despite their lack of success thus far, the Vikings haven't lost their spirit. After being dismissed from practice by Heselton Wednesday afternoon, the whole squad finished up with short "wind the Giants' workout Wednesday and according to Coach Jim Lee Howell will see limited action, possibly at quarterback.

In Good Taste Guest Irked Over Others At Dinner

BY EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I were invited to a friend's house for dinner the other evening. We thought we would be the only guests present, but when we arrived we found that she had invited three other couples. Shouldn't she have told us there would be others present? I certainly would have dressed differently had I known it was to be a party.

Answer: While there was no requirement that your friend do more than invite you to dinner on a certain day and hour, it would have been more considerate of her to have told you, "I am inviting the Browns, Smiths and Joneses too or 'We will be 8 or 10.'"

Dear Mrs. Post: When I became engaged to my husband, his relatives and family friends invited us to their houses, usually to meals. Now that we're married, am I supposed to invite all these different ones to our house—to meals?

Answer: Your return hospitality is not an obligation. Nevertheless, it would be as friendly of you now, as it was of them, to invite them to your home if, and when, you can. Perhaps you could manage a buffet lunch or supper and ask several families at once. Remember that people love to be invited to the houses of young people and are not at all critical of what is provided.

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it proper to sign one's name to a note or greeting card simply as Helen

S? Does it have any special significance attached to the signature Helen S. A note to an intimate friend would be signed Helen, or if there is any doubt as to which Helen it is, the signature should be Helen Smith.

Answer: There is no special

'Around Riverview in 60 Years' Proves Rollicking History of Golf Club

Riverview Country club members were served a rollicking dessert after their turnkey dinners Wednesday night at annual Harvest Home festivities. It was the laugh-provoking "Around Riverview in 60 Years." The show will be repeated tonight.

It was a merry song and dance production and one that change in golfing togs to the sparkling with originality. Encurtain call chanter who at Foster's Apothecary shop hancing its fun was the talent-sang "all was past history, bemoaning the lack of activities as much as the capacity audience."

Culbertson on Bridge

By Ely Culbertson

It is hard to understand some foibles that seem to affect tens of thousands of players. Take the matter of holding up an ace for example. Every player of reasonable experience uses this hold-up play time and gain in no-trump contract but for some obscure reason only experts (or near-experts) employ this same maneuver at suit contracts.

It should be obvious that the hold-up can be every bit as effective in one case as in the other. Consider:

South, dealer.
NORTH

H-7 3
D-K 9 4 3
C-9 5 3

WEST EAST

H-A 9 5
D-A 10 6
C-K 2

The bidding (rubber bridge):
South West North East
1 S Pass 2 S Pass
4 S Pass Pass Pass

West made his stand out lead, the queen of hearts, and since the declarer was a knowledgeable player, he did not automatically win the trick with his ace—he took time out for a little analysis. There were four possible losers in the combined hands: a heart, a diamond and two clubs. A fortunate position of the club ace would be welcome, but of course South could not count on that. It would be far better to establish an extra diamond trick in dummy, if that could be accomplished, so that South could discard a club. The crux, however, was to keep East off lead for a while so that he couldn't play through South's club king.

The first step in that direction lay in the heart suit, and so declarer held up the heart. West led another heart, heart South of course won. He caught the ace of trumps, led to dummy's trump king and the jack of diamonds, he could returned a diamond, putting lead to his partner's king of in the ten when East played hearts, and a club return by low. West, winning with the East then would be fatal.

Floor Tiling Climbs a Wall

Pattern returns to the floor ors. The repeat of the tile on in every type of floor cover- the wall is his inspired idea ing, and vinyl, as the newest type, does more than its share to provide inspiring variety too, in the shelf at table height Here the effect is very like an old Spanish tile floor as from one lounge chair to another at some distance from it, and in the lantern lighting at chair-convenient height between narrow windows.

(Copyright, 1958)

Your Legs Are Showing

Gay Garters . . . Lively plaid coveralls for the legs, ideal for outdoor wear.

Instep Stopper . . . Hand-painted roses go to the instep of colored nylon hosiery for evening wear.

All eyes will be on legs this year. Fashionable girls should keep shorter dresses in mind when assembling their wardrobe of leg accessories. And it will be a wardrobe, judging by the number of adornments that have made their appearance. There are dazzling garters of real rubies and diamonds at $1,200 a leg or less spectacular garters of seed pearls and silver bells.

Colored hosiery is handsomely decorated with clocks that run half way up the back of the stocking, handpainted bees swarm to the knees and sprays of roses decorate instep or ankle. There are stockings decorated with rhinestones and some with jet beads.

Grooming products run the gamut of important accessories for winter legs. Leg lotions and creams in squeeze bottles are designed especially for heels that must be sleek beneath sheer stockings.

Electric razors in princess pink or blue hues are attractive enough to exhibit on the vanity table, and leg make-up is back again to be worn under stockings to give legs a mat finish or to smooth legs that are discolored or scarred by prominent veins.

Other items that must be kept on the grooming shelf are pumice and stiff brushes for removing callous and bunions. If you'd pretty your knees and the backs of your heels, rouge is said to be the answer.

A variety of garters and spats are other ways girls call attention to their legs this season.

Information Wanted on Cement Jobs

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Question: I want to get information about making cement items: the proper mix, how to apply it, etc. Where can I get this?

Answer: Informational leaflets on concrete projects about the home, giving complete details, are available from the Portland Cement Association, 33 W. Grand avenue, Chicago, Ill.

Wax on Headboards

Question: I used a paste wax on the headboards of new twin beds. The result is that it is always smeary no matter how much I rub. How can the wax be removed without injuring the finish of the wood?

Answer: You apparently applied the wax too thickly. Paste wax should be applied in thin coats, well-rubbed. Use any nationally known wax-base floor cleaner, available at hardware and housewares stores, following label directions carefully.

Door Oozes "Pitch"

Question: Our new home has birch veneer flush doors. One door facing west, shows signs of wear; long strips of oozing that look like pitch. It is much darker than the door. How can we correct this condition?

Answer: With prepared paint remover, remove present finish completely, following label directions—particularly as regards neutralizing afterward. Seal in any sap and rosin (rounds as though the door were made of not-very-well-weathered lumber) by applying a special knot-sealing preparation. If your paint dealer doesn't carry it, two thin coats of pure, fresh, white shellac will serve equally well. This will keep the rosin from bleeding through the final finish. After this step, proceed with refinishing as desired.

actor, Anders Ek, and they have three children. She came to dancing late—at 25, which is practically old age in the ballet world—studied in Europe and directed herself all ways toward choreography rather than performing. At 50 she still takes dancing lessons.

"Writers, musicians, painters—they can work a long time and their work makes few physical demands," she said. "The choreographer must be able to demonstrate everything."

When composing a ballet, Miss Cullberg locks herself up with a tape recorder and works out the dance. Then, later, she must show others how to dance it.

"It is the only way," she said, a little sadly. "In this work, you can get old, you can even get fat. But you can't sit down."

DeMolay Unit Sets Reinstitution Date

The John F. Rose chapter of DeMolay will be reinstituted Nov. 29 at the Masonic temple. The Green Bay DeMolay chapter will conduct ceremonies. The supreme counselor and Jack Mocco, Green Bay, deputy grand counselor from the Green Bay district, will be present.

The Green Bay chapter will conduct the initiatory and DeMolay degrees in the afternoon to approximately 50 candidates from Appleton, Neenah, Menasha, Kaukauna, Kimberly and Little Chute.

A Mother and Dad dinner will be held at 6 p. m. for the entire Green Bay district, and an open installation of officers will be held at 7:30 p. m. at the temple.

Deadline for petitions is Nov. 15. On Nov. 20 the candidates will meet for an election of the master counselor, senior counselor and junior counselor, who will in turn appoint the chair officers, all of whom will be installed Nov. 29.

The sponsoring body for the Appleton DeMolay group is the Royal Arch Masons Chapter 47. Chairman of the DeMolay advisory council is Gordon Malueg. The secretary is Raymond Emrick and the DeMolay Dads are Robert Chase and Lester Emrick, all of Appleton.

American Influence Great On Development of Ballet

BY CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Newsfeatures Writer

When Degas was turning out his oil masterpieces, the ballerina was short, chunky, shortnecked and hollow-backed.

Many ballerinas, almost literally sold by poor parents into Europe's ballet companies, had no education—could neither read nor write. And the pay was so meager that sometimes a pretty young dancer found ways of supplementing her income. This, unfortunately, gave ballerinas racy reputations.

Today's ballerinas, however, are tall, streamlined, and not only well-trained in their specialty but highly literate and cultivated. In addition, the pay is good, with the result that a modern coryphee can devote herself wholeheartedly to her dancing career. The result is that ballerinas' reputations have been patched up.

"It is the influence of America," Birgit Cullberg, Swedish choreographer who has composed and directed some of the most interesting and popular of the modern ballets.

"Since America has become interested in ballet, it has been turning out especially well-trained dancers. You have a very good system for training dancers for all sorts of movement."

New Dances

This country, Miss Cullberg says, has been leading the world in the development of ballet, and is most interested in choreography—composing new dances.

"And there is now an American style," she said, "based on the classical ballet of Europe but developed through contact with the modern dance of Martha Graham and Hanya Holm and others."

To date, no satisfactory method for writing down a ballet has been developed. It is kept alive—if it is to live—by being passed along from dancer to dancer. One famous ballet, Giselle, was first composed over 100 years ago and is still being performed.

"There is the Laban notation method," said Miss Cullberg, "but it is such a complicated thing that a choreographer must spend almost a lifetime learning to use it—and there is no time left for the ballet itself."

Court Dancing

Ballet developed its classical form as court dancing. In another era, ballets were devised around music already written by one or another famous composer.

Today, however, most choreographers decide on a story line, work out steps and then order special music composed for the dance.

Miss Cullberg, on her first visit to the United States, spent much of her time rehearsing dancers of the American Ballet theater in her dances, notably "Miss Julie," which she adapted from a work by Strindberg.

Hand in Glove With Beauty

A lovely writes: "My hands latex gloves with no-slip finish have aged before their time. I am not yet 40, but they look as dry and wrinkled as prunes. What, if anything, can be done to improve the pearances?"

Whatever a woman's age, the solution to aging hands is a wardrobe of "beauty" gloves. And at least three varieties are required.

First off, you need work gloves to protect your hands same type of astringent mask while doing household tasks. Constant exposure to grime affay crepey conditions. This or wet is a prime ager of the move tones and firms the hands. For dry jobs, use work hand complexion, and so regloves made of thin cotton; suits in a youthful lift.

Cosmetic gloves are the second necessity. Wear them to bed, after applying skin oil, and they will work to smooth your hands while you sleep.

Lastly, glove your hands each week with a mask—the gloves to protect your hands same type of astringent mask while doing household tasks. Constant exposure to grime affay crepey conditions. This or wet is a prime ager of the move tones and firms the hands. For dry jobs, use work hand complexion, and so regloves made of thin cotton; suits in a youthful lift.

BY ANN LANDERS
DEAR ANN LANDERS: Several months ago you referred in your column to the "Old - Too-Soon, Smart-Too - Late Club." What does one have to do to join? It sounds interesting. Will you print some information stating the requirements, dues, etc.?—LONESOME

Dear Lonesome: No one joins - the Old-Too-Soon, Smart-Too-Late Club if he can help it. Most people want to get out, not in. The membership is composed largely of women and below are three of the most common traps which make membership automatic.

(a) A romantic liaison with a married man whose wife doesn't appreciate him. (She's usually "cold," extravagant or sick.)

The girl joins the Old-Too-Soon, Smart-Too-Late Club while waiting for him to get a divorce.

(b) A career woman who knows one day her boyfriend will marry her but right now he has too many debts, his mother is against it, and so on—into the next decade.

(c) Going crazy over a sophisticated type who brags he's not the marrying kind and then goes on to prove it year after year. The girl becomes a member in good standing while she persuades herself she's the one woman in the world who can get him to change. In the meantime, nothing changes except the color of her hair.

DEAR ANN: When my son was 17 he enlisted in the navy. A few weeks before he was to leave his girl told him she was pregnant. He offered to marry her. To prove his sincerity he put his insurance and bonds in her name. The girl suddenly decided she didn't want to marry him and within two months she married a fellow she'd known for years. She didn't trick him into it as she was four months gone by that time and looked it.

Now, four years later, my son is married to a nice girl and they have two children. This first girl came to my home recently and told me the whole story. She married the other fellow because she had a talk with my husband and he told her our son was "just a kid who didn't know his own mind" and to please leave him alone. When I asked my husband about it he said he didn't recall the conversation.

This girl is very fine and doesn't want to break up her marriage or his. She says she'll never love anyone the way she loved my son, but her husband is good to her and she intends to be a faithful wife.

She came to me because she heard we're considering buying the house next to hers. She begged me not to. I agree we should not be neighbors. My husband says we're both being childish. I ask you, how can we live next to our own grandchild and not become attached to him? My husband says we can ignore them all. Please, Ann, help me. He's stubborn as a mule.

D. W. Dingeldein Claims Bride in Madison Rites

The First Unitarian church, Madison, was the scene of the wedding of Miss Gloria Jeanne Bourgeois and Dewey W. Dingeldein. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Max Gabler at 2:30 p.m. Sunday Oct. 5. Mrs. Richard Andrews was organist.

Mr. and Mrs. Dingeldein are at home in Freeport, Ill., after taking a honeymoon trip in the Wisconsin Dells.

The bride was given in marriage by a friend, Richard Koehl. Mrs. David J. Meyer, Appleton, was the matron of honor. Best man was James W. Bleier, Appleton, and ushers were Mr. Meyer and Fred H. Fehr.

The wedding reception was held in the hearth room of the church immediately after the ceremony. Assistants at the reception were Mrs. Robert Doremus, Mrs. James Hick-Beaumont, and has done graduate work at the University of Wisconsin. She was a member of the research staff in the Department of Rural Sociology at the university.

Mr. Dingeldein is the son of the University of Wisconsin, Mrs. A. F. Ullrich, Appleton, and is a sports writer for the Department of Rural Sociology at the university. He received his bachelor of arts degree in journalism at Freeport, Ill.

Actress Gives Views About Elvis Presley

The Army should be mightily glad to have Elvis Presley, and that goes for generals as well as privates.

That's the opinion of a girl who should know, lovely Dolores Hart, 19, who has made two pictures with the handsome heart-throb of teenagers.

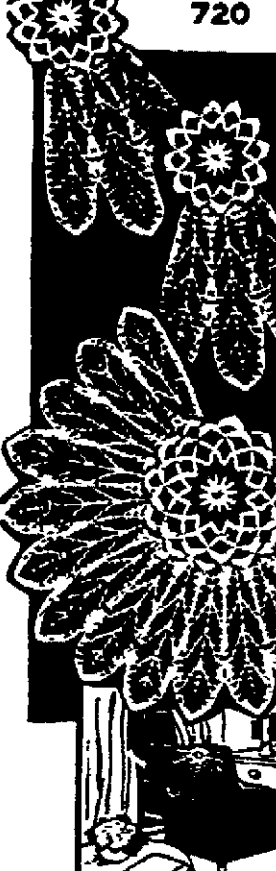

"He's a sincere, earnest type and a hard worker, and it is not true that he is shallow," says blonde Dolores. "He's a delightful person with whom to work, and he's very popular on the set, even with the electricians, the true way to size up movie popularity."

The only trouble with Elvis, says Dolores, is that he's constantly put in a position of shooting off girls—and that makes him look very conceited, which he isn't," she says defensively. "Girls can get pretty silly, and it is embarrassing sometimes to watch how they throw themselves at him."

He tries to cover up some of this attention, so he doesn't look too ridiculous, but it's a hard job.

"But worse than that, Elvis never knows whom to believe—he doesn't know whether she really likes him for himself," she says.

Dolores has never dated Elvis, and wouldn't be interested in him romantically.

"We are different religions, and when I settle down it will be for keeps. I want to have a family, too, when I get married, but so far I haven't met anyone who can fill the bill."

Although Dolores thinks that she and Elvis could hit it off, she says:

"What's the sense of tempting fate?"

Men Jealous

She thinks men say they dislike Elvis sometimes because they are jealous of him.

"Most men think Elvis is scatter-brained because they don't really know him. When we played in this last movie, 'King Creole,' Elvis would stay up all night making recordings and then appear on the set mentally prepared for his role, and alert in every way."

Dolores was born in Chicago and received a scholarship to Marymount College in West Los Angeles, where she enrolled as a theater arts major. While playing a bit in a show put on by Loyola, the men's university, Dolores was given a reading part by one of the Hollywood studios.

The studio was impressed. She has made two movies since then, is on her way to making a third, and will play on Broadway in the fall.

She is religious, likes tailored clothing, loves animals, football, lemon pie and spaghetti. Emerald green is her favorite color.

Uneven Tendency Prevails During Heavy Trading

New York —(U-P)—Stock market prices churned near their all-time high in heavy trading early this afternoon. Gains and losses of fractions to a point or so prevailed among leading issues.

The market was strong at the start with steel and motor setting the pace. First-hour volume was 1,100,000 shares, one of the best this year. The ticker tape ran late.

Among encouraging reports was news that incoming orders of manufacturing firms in September topped the year-earlier level for the first time in 1938.

U. S. Steel and General Motors, which reported an encouraging earnings trend this week, were up fractions on big blocks at the start. GM remained ahead but U. S. Steel erased the gain and showed a net loss of around a point.

Many other popular issues canceled gains and showed minus signs. But plenty of gainers remained.

Ahead a point or more were Lukens Steel, Boeing, Goodrich, and Loew's. Consolidated Copper Mines remained ahead about a point while Cerro de Pasco erased a fractional gain following the word the latter plans to acquire Consolidated.

Parmele fell about four and Checker Motors more than three as the Checker president denied rumors plans to sell taxicab licenses held by affiliated companies.

American Motors was off about a point.
